TWO PLANES TRY FOR RECORDS

Crew of Five Over California and Flier Over Missouri—Seek Endurance Honors

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 2.—Marking the first time in history that fuel had been transferred in mid-air at night, 200 gallons of gasoline was passed through a hose to the United States army's endurance plane, the Question Mark shortly after last midnight.

The transfer of the gasoline was made over San Diego at an altitude of 3,000 feet, it was announced from Rockwell Field. The Question Mark arrived over North Island at 11:45 p.m. and dropped a green flare, the signal that gasoline was wanted. Within twenty minutes the refueling plane was in the air and the contact between the two planes was maintained for eight minutes.

The flight, which may last for weeks, was started yesterday morning. The crew consists of five men.

No Evidence on Liquor Store Holdup Placed Before Vancouver Magistrate

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—Echoes of the robbery of liquor vendor's store on Howe Street here on December 1 last were heard in the police court today when Irvine H. Cook was given a preliminary hearing on a charge of counselling robbery with violence.

Evidence of the robbery, in which two armed men held up W. Montgomery, cashier, at the beer department of the store and stole $2,064, was given by the victim.

F. B. Law, on whose alleged admissions to the police the information against Cook was founded, it being alleged that Law made a statement to the authorities incriminating the accused, denied the testimony said to have been given by him.

As a result, the charge was dismissed by Magistrate Shaw, who at the close remarked there was not a particle of evidence on which Cook could be committed for trial.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—In 1928, for the third year in succession, Canada's mineral production reached a new high record, the value of the output being $271,000,000, which marked a gain of nearly ten per cent, or $23,444,000, over the total for the preceding year, according to an estimate compiled by S. J. Cook, chief of the mining, metallurgical and chemical branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and published in a preliminary report issued by the bureau.

In few previous years had Canada's mining industry shown such phenomenal growth. Advances were general in all fields, metals, non-metals, and structural materials.

Judge Withdraws

Riverside, Cal., Jan. 2.—Superior Judge O. K. Morton to-day disqualified himself to try Gordon Stewart Northcott for the murder of Lewis and Nelson Window argument in the Nifanti case. Both prosecution and defence acquiesced in the naming of Judge Freeman.

Judge Morton's disqualification of himself was based on an affidavit signed by Northcott and presented to the court in a motion by his attorney, Norbert Savoy, charging prejudice.

The affidavit charged that in June, 1927, Northcott and Leonard Nifanti, at that time a law partner of Morton, were involved in a minor traffic accident. During argument in the Nifanti case Morton offered over damage Northcott.

In handing the seals of the city of Victoria to Mayor Herbert Anscomb, His Honor recalled that he had performed a like service in respect to the Oak Bay seals on more than one occasion.

His wish would be, said Judge Lampman, that Mayor Anscomb and his administration would be as successful in the interests of the city as he knew it had been in Oak Bay. Much would be expected of the new regime, and he hoped that success and good fortune would attend its efforts.

The new Mayor voiced the appreciation of himself and his colleagues for the good wishes expressed. They would do their best, he said.

New York, Jan. 2.—William Randolph Hearst, owner of the Hearst newspaper string, through his newspapers, today offered a prize of $25,000 for the best plan to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and substitute "a more liberal and more American measure."

Mr. Hearst's offer was contained in a telegram to Edwin J. Clapp, published by his papers. Clapp, formerly with the Hearst papers, is now connected with Durnall Motors.

Mr. Hearst recently offered a $25,000 prize for the best plan to enforce prohibition. The prize was won by Major Chester F. Mills.

Mr. Hearst's telegram was an answer to one from Mr. Clapp requesting the publisher's views on "education versus prohibition" and also asking for a talk about "this problem of law observance as a necessary part of the return of the country to being law-abiding."

In his telegram Mr. Hearst said he did not believe prohibition ever would be or ever could be enforced. He believed that if a violent effort were made to enforce it during the next four years by the Republican administration, the next President of the United States would be a Democrat.

DRY PROVINCE IN TWO YEARS

Prohibitionists, Who Now War Against Beer Parlors, Set Objective

Government Control Declared Failure: Seek Referendum on Prohibition

Attacking Government control as a failure economically, socially and morally, the British Columbia Prohibition Association gives notice of a vigorous campaign to wipe out beer parlors in British Columbia and for a change in the present methods of distributing profits as long as liquor is sold by the Provincial Government. A return to complete prohibition is the ultimate objective.

SEEK REFERENDUM

Rev. R. J. McIntyre, General Secretary, states that the association as a temporary policy is waging war on the beer parlors, and has requested a beer parlor referendum in Vancouver by April of this year. The association is also fighting for the prohibition of all liquor advertising, the discontinuance of the ear-marking of liquor profits for distribution in municipalities, legislation prohibiting political parties, reviving campaign funds from liquor interests, and a referendum on prohibition within the next two years.

We feel confident that if a referendum could be taken in this Province in the near future on the issue of prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of liquor, the Government control system which has failed economically, socially and morally, would be defeated, and prohibition, the only solution of the liquor problem would become the law of the land."

HARD LIQUOR SALES

Directing his attack chiefly at the beer parlors, Rev. Mr. McIntyre says that instead of decreasing the consumption of hard liquors as it was claimed they would have increased the sales. They had brought back the old saloon in another form, he says, with elements that were associated with the saloon of former days.

Improvement in Sovereign's Condition To-day Reported in Bulletin

London, Jan. 2.—King George's physicians issued the following bulletin this evening:

"The King passed a good day and there is a slight improvement in His Majesty's condition."

The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewitt, Sir Hugh Rigby and Lord Dawson.

FORENOON BULLETIN

London, Jan. 2.—There was an optimistic note in to-day's news about King George. "This forenoon he had retained the improvement his doctors reported last night."

Even the restless night the doctors reported this morning did not cause the King to lose any ground since the improvement noted last night.

Palace circles were gratified there had been no check in this progress which, however, continues to be slow.

It is understood the new calcium treatment for toning up the blood in connection with which Professor F. C. Dodds, brilliant young chemical pathologist from the University of London, was called in, is being continued, and further benefits from it are hoped for.

The bulletin, issued at 11.15 a.m., read:

"In spite of a restless night, the condition of His Majesty remains unchanged from last evening."

AFTERNOON VISIT OMITTED

From the fact that the King's doctors did not make their usual visit to the palace this afternoon it was gathered they were satisfied with the progress His Majesty was making.

Princess Mary arrived at the palace this afternoon from her Yorkshire home for a further stay with her mother.

GREAT CHESS MASTER WANTS GAME CHANGED

Jose Capablanca, International Champ, Suggests 100-Square Board

Would Also Add Two Pieces; Experts Declare Game Should Be Livelier

London, Eng., Jan. 2.—How to liven up the ancient game of chess—more accurately described as an exact science—how, indeed, to prevent it becoming dead within fifteen years, is the subject of a letter contributed to The Times by the international champion, Senor Jose Capablanca.

Fault, he declares, lies in the ability of the modern master to memorize thousands of games by heart; until he sees the time coming when such a one will be able, thus equipped, to draw every game he plays. The remedy, he suggests, is for a hundred-square board, instead of sixty-four; and the introduction of two new pieces. He says, in part: "Imagine a game in which some half-dozen experts neither win nor lose, but always draw. The game, as a game, is dead; it has lost all its interest, it becomes intolerable to play and is intolerable to watch. Tournaments are now gone through without the loss of a single game by players who could never have done so some ten years ago. In tournament after tournament there is no 'brilliance,' and very few combinations are possible, because each player knows exactly what to avoid, and the position after the opening makes combinations out of the question. Meanwhile the average number of moves per game in tournaments among great players is increasing.

NO "BRILLIANCE" "There should be nothing surprising in this when we remember what has happened in other games; billiards, for instance. But surprise, if not resentment, is expressed from time to time by lovers of the game of chess who do not understand what has happened, and why. The best players are sometimes accused of being dull and unimaginative, and wanting in initiative because their play shows no 'brilliance,' no resourcefulness, no courage. The fact is they are given no chance to show these qualities when playing against their equals or their betters. They play simply the best variations they know, and these lead nearly always to a draw. They play according to knowledge, as they must. It is a dull conclusion, but it is inevitable if a player is to have regard to his position in a tournament. He cannot be expected to commit suicide for the sake of sport.

LIVELIER GAME

"The demand, however, for a livelier game, where there would be more competition, more sacrifice and more scope for native talent and imagination, and less room for the chess player's least valuable virtue, memory, is thoroughly legitimate. Let the critics, and let the first-class players who suffer quite as much under the present system as the average competent observer, have what they want. There must be a change in the game (as there has been in other games), not in its structure or fundamental principles, but such as to give the game once more an unlimited lease of life. The change, I am convinced, must be fairly far-reaching, for no shifting the relative position of the pieces, as at present arranged on the board, nor any of the many minor, often-suggested changes, will do. It would be a palliative for a very short time.

"There remains, then, a larger board to consider, and the addition of extra pieces. Personally, I am in favor of the hundred-square board, ten by ten, with two new pieces for each side, the one to have the powers of the rook and knight. Where exactly these pieces should stand at the start can be settled later, though I suggest one each next to the king and queen; and there would be another minor change to consider, in giving permission for the pawns to move one, two or three squares on the first move, in order to bring the opposing sides more quickly in touch with one another. The broad principle is the hundred-square board, which I prefer to the eighty-square board, ten by eight, and the new pieces.

"It is not difficult to see what a new term of life would be given to the game. All the memorization and theoretical experience of the present would be gone from the game, which would be open only to the real chess-playing virtues—large conception, imagination, self-reliance and hard thinking—while an inexhaustible area would be available for combination, and thus the spirit and essence of chess-play would remain intact.

Senor Capablanca's suggestions drew the following letter, some days later, from E. S. Blackburne, well-known British chess "problemist," who more or less opposes the Cuban master's proposals and argues on behalf of the "average player": "Six years ago, shortly before leaving New Zealand, where I used to be chess editor of The Canterbury Times, a chess player wrote to me from America, asking my opinion of a proposal akin to that now put forward in your issue of the 24th instant by Senor Capablanca. I told him my correspondent claimed to be the originator.

ANOTHER PLAN "If I remember rightly, his scheme was to substitute for the queen's rook a piece having the combined powers of a rook and a knight, and for the queen's knight a piece having the combined powers of a knight and a bishop. The two bishops now existing, on each side, he would not interfere with, because he thought each of them ought, so long as it remained on the board, to continue running always on diagonals of the same color on which it was originally placed.

"Unlike Senor Capablanca, my correspondent did not propose to add to the present number of pieces or to the present number of squares on the board. Nor did he, as Senor Capablanca does, propose that the pawns should be allowed to move one, two, or three moves on the first move, instead of one or two moves only, as at present.

BE UNPOPULAR "It is a question in my mind whether my correspondent's proposal would not accomplish all that Senor Capablanca desires—namely, the avoidance of the monotony of almost inevitable draws in games between the most accomplished masters, which he says will kill master play within the next fifteen years. If so, it would surely be preferable to Senor Capablanca's suggestion, as it would involve less change from the present game of chess, necessitate no change at all in the present score of games on the lines proposed by Senor Capablanca, and, I should fear that Senor Capablanca's proposal would make such a difficult and complicated game that it would become one for masters only, and altogether fail to secure popular favor. On the other hand, a trial of about a score of games on the lines proposed by my American correspondent, which I played with one of my brothers, satisfied me that his proposed new game would not be beyond the capacity of average players."

Eighty-six of Best Handicap Horses in U.S. Are Named For Event

Richest Stake Race in World Will Have Gross Value of $125,000

Tia Juana Race track, Tia Juana, Mex., Jan. 2.—Nominations for the world's richest stake race, the Coffroth Handicap, with $100,000 added money from the Tia Juana Jockey Club, and with a gross value of more than $125,000, have closed with eighty-six of the United States' best handicap horses being named for the event. The race will be run on St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

Among some of the equine blue-bloods named and which appear certain to be ranked high in the weights are: Healy, Genie, Algonquin, Herodian, Lito, Jock, War Eagle, Hyomel, Alexander, Panagiotis, Crystal Pennant, Sankari, Dangerous, Royal Stranger and Handy Mandy. The powerful stables of W. R. Coe, Gifford Cochran, La Bree and others, are already on the grounds getting their horses acclimated for the race. This indicates the keenest competition in years, which in turn should make for the greatest Coffroth ever run.

THE CONDITIONS

The conditions of the Coffroth are as follows: One mile and one-quarter for three-year-olds and upward, by subscription of $150 each, $500 additional to start, $100,000 added, of which $75,000 and all entrance and starting fees to winner, $9,000 to second, $4,500 to third, and $1,500 to fourth. The jockey riding the winner and the trainer of the same to receive $5,000 extra from the Jockey Club. Weights to be announced January 8. Racing Secretary Jack B. Campbell will assist the weights.

So called "complimentary" entries which "pad out" other stakes are lacking this year in the Coffroth. James W. Coffroth, president of the Tia Juana Jockey Club and namesake of the stake, stated that in his opinion he has never seen such an array of stars nominated for the big race.

Following are the nominations: Ringe, Maudslayi, Eusebio, Normale announced that the famous Coffroth "Future Book" would be open January 10.

Morton J. Carthew Dies in Ontario

Owen Sound, Ont., Jan. 2.—Morton James Carthew, grandson of Laura Secord, famed Canadian heroine, died yesterday at Thornbury, Ontario.

Quick relief for COLDS since 1889

Tired of sitting at home

A beautiful bride of only last June, yet she found herself bored, bored to tears. Nearly every night Henry came home from the office sniffling and sneezing. Too irritable, too weary, too worried about himself to take her to a dance or to the theatre. What could she do for her headache?

Fortunately, her mother knew the answer, an answer approved by millions of cold sufferers—GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. At the earliest warning symptom: headache, throat-tickle, or vague general pains; he now promptly takes these tonic and laxative cold and grip tablets. So he either side-steps the cold entirely or throws it off quickly.

So can you. But two things are important. First, don't delay. Second, make sure of getting the genuine by emphasizing GROVE'S when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

Duncan

Scouts and Cubs of the Quamichan Troop gave a very enjoyable entertainment in St. Peter's Parish Hall on Friday evening under the direction of Colonel Dopping-Hepental, who has them in charge and has done so much for the boys. The hall was packed with relatives and friends, who were present by invitation only. Any money which they cared to put in the plate at the door will be used towards the cost of installation of electric light in the hall and a stage platform.

The programme included eight scenes, as follows: 1. "Friends in Need"; 2. "The Sixth Scout Law—Kindness to Animals"; 3. Tableau, "From Lou to Scout"; 4. "The Scout's Song"; 5. "T Model Ford Car"; 6. "The Bitter Bit"; 7. "If You See An Old Black Bear"; 8. Tableau, "A Boy's Worthwhile Ambition."

Community singing of campfire songs between the acts was an added attraction.

After the National Anthem was sung refreshments were served and cheers for Colonel Dopping-Hepental, the scouts and the cubs were given.

Ladysmith

Despite the inclement weather the Robert Street Hall was filled Friday evening when the annual Christmas entertainment of the United Church was held. The programme opened with "There is the Chimney" and "Gifts for Jesus" by the primary department and a duet, "A Babe in the Manger" by Edith Mason and Joyce Snider. A lantern slide entitled "The Story of the Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke, was much enjoyed, followed by the white gifts for the King. Santa Claus arrived and presented each child with a box of candy and nuts.

The children of St. John's Sunday school were given their annual Christmas treat Wednesday afternoon in St. John's Hall. After a sumptuous supper had been enjoyed, games were played until the appearance of Santa, who gave each child a gift.

On Thursday evening the Burns Club held its annual Christmas entertainment for the children in the Foresters' Hall, when a jolly time was spent.

AUTOGIRO AGAIN TRIES ITS "WINGS"

Here you see the American debut of the "flying windmill," invented and successfully tested in Europe with a flight across the English channel. Banks, left, Philadelphia pilot; Arthur Dawson, centre, of London, who brought the machine to America; and J. Faulkner, Atlanta flier. The twenty-five-foot fans, rotating on a vertical shaft, take the place of the ordinary airplane wings and allow the craft to rise and descend almost vertically.

FILM ACTRESS IS RELEASED

Dorothy Mackaye Regains
Freedom After Serving Ten
Months in California

San Quentin, Cal., Jan. 2.—Almost on the verge of hysteria from happiness, Dorothy Mackaye, former stage star, convicted of concealing facts in connection with the death of her husband, Ray Raymond, left San Quentin prison at dawn yesterday—a free woman.

Without a backward look at the sombre pile that had been her home for ten months, the erstwhile stage idol walked briskly out to a smart roadster, at the wheel of which sat dapper youth, and after a few words with the waiting newspapermen, sped away to an unannounced destination.

Obviously overcome by the joy of attaining her freedom, Miss Mackaye had little to say to her questioners.

"I am leaving immediately for Denver to look after my baby daughter," she said. "I bear no ill will to anyone, but I am determined to clear my name of the stigma that has been attached to it since the death of my husband, of which I am innocent, and Paul Kelly is innocent."

Sir Lomer Gouin
Lieutenant-Governor
Of Quebec Province

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Sir Lomer Gouin, a former Premier of Quebec and for two years Federal Minister of Justice, has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec. His appointment will date from January 10 when the term of Hon. Narcisse Perreault will expire. Hon. Narcisse Perreault was sworn in as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, January 10, 1924.

The public career of Sir Lomer Gouin has been a long and successful one. Comparatively early in life he entered the field of politics in his own province and was successful in winning a seat in the Legislature. For fifteen years he was Premier of Quebec, resigning that office in 1920. He was knighted at the time of the Quebec Tercentenary celebration in 1908.

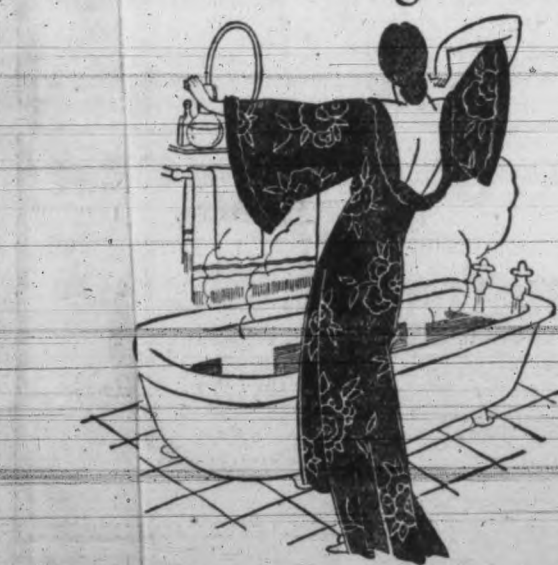

Sir Lomer was elected to the House of Commons at the general election of 1921 and upon the formation of the King Cabinet he was appointed Minister of Justice. He resigned the portfolio January 3, 1924, on account of ill-health.

LYNCHING TO BE INVESTIGATED

In Mississippi Town Grand Jury May Look Into Killing of Negro

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 2.—Probability of a grand jury investigation of the burning Monday night of Charley Shepherd, negro convict, is indicated by Arthur Jordan, district attorney in the district in which the lynching was done. Mr. Jordan said he would get in touch with Judge S. F. Davis at Indianapolis.

The district attorney's announcement followed a coroner's inquest at which it was decided the negro "came to his death from causes unknown to this jury."

After Adjutant-General J. M. Hairston had stated that when he had learned the mob had seized Shepherd he had ordered home the thirty-six National Guardsmen who were leading some 1,500 possumen. He explained he was thirty miles away and could not do anything, and that the soldiers had been called out to organize the hunt and "not to kill a lot of people trying to take away a murderer."

Shepherd, who was a trustee at the state prison farm, serving twenty years for manslaughter, beat and stabbed to death J. D. Duval, a carpenter sergeant there, and kidnapped Duval's eighteen-year-old daughter, Ruth, last Thursday night. The girl, after Shepherd had left her, stumbled into a prison camp last Saturday morning bearing evidence of ill-treatment and the drive to find Shepherd was redoubled. He surrendered Monday morning, but was seized by a mob before he could be taken to a jail.

To Check
Flu-Grip

Fight the Germs with Vapors
Before They Can Get a Start

Treat All Colds Promptly
But Be Careful Not to Disturb the Digestion
With Too Much Dosing

While Flu is so prevalent everyone should take precautions to prevent its further spread. Flu is generally accompanied by a headache, burning eyeballs, and aching joints. But it begins so many times with just an ordinary cold.

Too often, the colds are neglected until they have lowered the vitality and permitted the lurking germs of influenza, or pneumonia to "get a foothold." The only safe plan is to attack a cold at the very start. A hot bath, a laxative, and a vigorous application of Vicks VapoRub on the throat and chest at bedtime, will usually break up a cold overnight.

External Treatment Best
For hours after Vicks is applied, its ingredients, time-tested remedies, such as camphor, menthol, eucalyptus, thyme and turpentine, are vaporized by the warmth of the body, and inhaled right to the inflamed air passages. At the same time, the ointment acts through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" tightness and pain, and helping the vapors to break up the congestion.

Avoid Upsetting Stomach
This simple external treatment cannot disturb your digestion as too much "dosing" is so apt to do. This is doubly important when "flu" is around, for your stomach, as well as your respiratory organs, must be kept in good condition in order to keep your body resistance at its highest level.

For this reason, too, mothers prefer Vicks for children. It can be used freely and often, even on the youngest child, with no fear of upsetting a delicate stomach.

To Help Ward Off the Flu
When influenza colds are prevalent, you can often prevent infection by snuffing a little Vicks well up the nostrils every night and morning, or before exposure to crowds.

DR. MACLEAN'S APPOINTMENT

DR. J. D. MACLEAN'S APPOINTMENT
to an important position in the Department of Finance at Ottawa will be approved by the people of British Columbia without regard to political distinctions. It is a well-deserved tribute to the ability and integrity he has shown in his public career and his worth as a citizen.

For more than twelve years Dr. MacLean was a Cabinet Minister. He administered the portfolios of Provincial Secretary, Education, Railways, and Finance, while for some time he also was responsible for the activities of the Department of Industries and the Provincial Board of Health. The duties of all these offices he discharged in a businesslike and conscientious manner. It is only fair to observe, however, that as Minister of Finance for four years—during which he retained the portfolio of Education—he made a reputation as an administrator which attracted very considerable attention on this continent and in financial circles farther afield. It was during his term of office that British Columbia's securities became so popular in the money markets that most of the large houses requested advance information as to when the province contemplated the flotation of a loan.

Its appreciation of these factors prompted the Dominion Government to utilize his services in a wider field. British Columbia will regret Dr. MacLean's withdrawal from its public life, but it may console itself with the fact that its loss will be a gain for the country as a whole. His many friends will wish him every success in his new sphere.

FORD'S ANCIENT WORLD

HENRY FORD THINKS THAT MEN OF past ages had aeroplanes, automobiles, radios and other twentieth century devices. Their civilizations passed and were forgotten, he believes; but, nevertheless, they had reached as high a stage of scientific development as we have.

In addition, he believes that this happened, not once, but "millions of times." And the souls of those early scientists and thinkers are about in the world to-day, persisting through uncounted generations by process of reincarnation.

It is rather doubtful if Mr. Ford will find many anthropologists or archaeologists to agree with him. Most reputable authorities on the subject hold that behind the earliest curtain of prehistoric darkness there lie only the unrecorded aeons of evolution from beasthood.

So most of us, probably, will look at this expression of Mr. Ford's views as one of those strange aberrations like the peace ship, and will say something like: "He's a great industrialist, but when he gets out of his own field he certainly has dizzy ideas."

But there is not really any reason why we should think this notion of his strange or far-fetched. After all, what is he saying? Simply that this world is a more wonderful, miraculous place than we ordinarily dream; that it contains secrets at which we can no more than guess, hidden forces that cannot be explained by any of our usual processes.

And that, when you stop to think about it, is just about what the world's greatest thinkers have been trying to tell us for centuries. That Mr. Ford should join in the chorus is surprising, perhaps, but not necessarily strange.

It has become quite the thing lately to look on the world and everybody in it as a vast bit of machinery—complicated and perplexing, perhaps, but machinery nevertheless, functioning in a way that was foreordained ages ago, and explainable in a perfectly matter-of-fact way from start to finish.

It is only natural that that attitude should grow, since our every step is attended by the whirling of wheels somewhere about us. But, for some reason, Mr. Ford, who has had more to do with this spread of machinery than any other living man, does not share in it.

He still thinks that we live in a miraculous world—a world of wonders and portents, in which no dream can be too glittering, no hope too high, in which men do not die and go to dust like worn out cog wheels in a factory, but live on forever to continue in the work of lifting the race up to the level which it has glimpsed in its greatest moments.

And that, instead of proving that he ought to stick to his own field and let philosophical speculations alone, may prove that he is more thoughtful and level-headed than we have given him credit for.

GREATER VANCOUVER NOW

A PART FROM A NATURAL FRIENDLY feeling between one Canadian city and another, Victoria finds pleasure in congratulating Vancouver on its progress during the year which has just closed and expresses the hope that under its new dispensation it will continue to prosper with the rest of the province and the country as a whole. When yesterday dawned the three municipalities formerly known as Vancouver, South Vancouver, and Point Grey ceased to exist. They comprise what now is known as Greater Vancouver and henceforward will do business under one mayor and council as one civic entity.

As we have suggested on former occasions, this development in municipal life on the Mainland is of more than passing interest to Victoria and the adjoining municipalities. The energetic citizens of Greater Vancouver very naturally intend to make the most of the advantages their new civic importance obviously will give them. It is fully expected that after the next census has been taken in 1931 Greater Vancouver will be in a position to advertise itself as the third city of Canada. Winnipeg is hoping to retain the honor; but there seems to be an expectation that the rate of development which is going on on this coast will give our neighbor across the straits the lead. Although a Greater Victoria scheme has not yet been reduced to practical politics, the time may be not far distant when we shall have to give it serious consideration.

BEAVERBROOK'S PROJECT

IN AN INTERVIEW GIVEN IN TORONTO the other day Mr. A. Beverley Baxter, a former Canadian newspaperman and now managing-editor of Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, declared that the ambition of his chief has a direct relation to the economic and political future of the British Commonwealth of Nations. He envisions the Empire not as a loosely-knit alliance of self-governing nations developing independently of one another, but as a closely-woven amalgamation of the economic units of a single producing entity, "which will present to the world a common tariff barrier, and behind which the Empire can realize its full strength, politically as well as economically." Mr. Baxter says Lord Beaverbrook sees the Empire more of a business and less of an ungainly service club.

This is an interesting ideal; but it is doubtful if it ever can be realized. In the first place the economic and geographic position of the Dominions makes it necessary for them to trade with the rest of the world with something approaching the freedom with which Great Britain has traded with other nations and grown economically powerful as a result. They must cultivate their customers wherever they are to be found or go under.

Free trade between the various countries which compose the Britannic Commonwealth of Nations is a Liberal principle to which Canada should be ready to subscribe; but this policy plus a single tariff against the rest of the world would be impracticable. Canada's tariff must be based upon Canada's peculiar needs. Australia's tariff must be devised in Australia's interests, and so on with the other Dominions. A tariff which might be beneficial to one might be ruinous to another. It would be just as impossible—and dangerous—to imperial solidarity to organize the Empire into an economic unit as it was found to be to organize it into a political unit.

In any case, a tariff war with the rest of the world would be disastrous, particularly to Canada. Some people forget that the white population of the British Empire is only a little more than half the population of the United States. India and other native states are unknown quantities in a political sense. Incidentally, we are afraid Lord Beaverbrook would have a merry time trying to persuade Canadian protectionists to accept a policy under which British goods would enter Canada free of duty. Even the preference now given to British imports is anathema maranatha to them.

A THOUGHT

Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake.—Job iv, 14.

The wounded limb shrieks from the slightest touch; and a slight shadow alarms the nervous.—Ovid.

MASTERS OF FREEDOM

By Bruce Catton

A weekly magazine the other day was discussing the new talking-movie scheme. In the course of its discussion there was one highly significant remark.

"Of course," the article said, "since it is a mechanical process, it will be brought to perfection in the near future."

That represents a new viewpoint—a viewpoint that, more and more, is becoming characteristic of this age. Since it is a mechanical process, it will be brought to perfection in the near future.

Mankind, in other words, has reached the point where it does not believe that anything in the material, physical world is impossible. All of the bonds of time and space that hampered our forefathers are to fall away. The world is to be brought to a walnut shell. The poorest shall be lord of the universe. Lightning shall be chained, sea shall be dried up, the desert shall blossom like the rose; music shall be seized from the empty air, man's vision shall pierce clouds and dissolve mountains, silent machines shall do all the drudgery and we will inherit a new freedom, great and everlasting.

It must be that we are getting pretty close to the millennium.

Possibly. Yet there are one or two other fields in which there is still room for improvement. We have demonstrated that we can make many inventions. There is not much left for us to know in the realm of physics. Now it is time for us to start making progress in other spheres; spheres in which mechanical ingenuity will do us no good.

Make a practice of studying your daily paper. Read, carefully, all the accounts of humanity's stupidities, villainies, weaknesses, hatreds and prejudices. Digest them, even though they are not pleasant reading. Then you will understand some of the things that are yet to be done.

It is fine to be free from the old material bonds that fettered all former generations. But it will be better yet to be free from spiritual bondage. Ignorance, superstition and hatred are worse masters than the ones our new inventions have overcome. The man whose mind is not free is eternally a slave, even though he can master the earth and air.

Diamonds are trumps and South has the lead. North and South must win four of the five tricks, against a perfect defence.

Lay out the cards on a table, as shown in the diagram, and study the situation. See if you can find a method of play that will net North and South four tricks.

MONDAY'S SOLUTION

Like the puzzle of two days ago, this also requires overlapping partner's high card. Here, however, the purpose is not that of providing a re-entry for a needed finesse, but to take the lead from your partner, who will not be placed in a bad position.

South leads the jack of hearts, North plays the queen, and East lets the trick hold. But instead of making a heart return, North leads a trump. Now East instead of South is placed in a bad position—for the simple reason that North's ten of hearts cannot be prevented from taking the last trick.

If East had taken the first heart lead with the ace, it would have been of no help to him whatever. He would have only been forced to lead a heart from his nine-six to North's, ten-eight, giving the latter two tricks in the suit. But if North had not overplayed South's opening lead, the jack of East would have permitted the trick to hold. South's next lead would have then been trumped by West's jack, with East discarding a heart. East and West easily taking three tricks. If the opening lead is a spade or a diamond, West trumps at once with the jack.

strap, with observations also upon the various methods adopted for mitigating the painful effect of the use of these instruments upon the victim's body. Possibly he and other young gentlemen having had experience might speak with authority on this subject. I know I could.

I understand that this Boys' Parliament disapproves of cadet training. This is unfortunate for the men of to-morrow, as without it they are deprived of a wholesome lesson in discipline and order, in which the youth of to-day are sadly lacking.

I pass over his somewhat rude and uncalled for personal remarks as the emanations of a child who has not yet learnt manners, nor do I want to prevent these boys playing at being members of Parliament, as their fathers in a healthier age used to play at being Red Indians, pirates, etc., but I protest against the public being bedeviled with long accounts of their pranks.

SUPPORT APPRECIATED

To the Editor:—On behalf of the publicity committee and ways and means committee of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Pensioners' Association, I am instructed to tender to the Daily Times our sincere appreciation of the cordial co-operation your paper extends to us in giving publicity to the activities of our association.

On no occasion have we failed down on or neglected to publish any matter submitted to you. On the contrary, we are compelled to protest against the discrimination displayed by your morning contemporaries.

The Colonist, for some inscrutable reason, has turned down and refused publication of exactly duplicate copies of subjects submitted to and published by your paper. We submit to your paper and The Colonist copies of the result of our recent tombola. Your paper published the copy we submitted to you. The Colonist did not publish the copy placed in its hands.

Since publication of the first copy by your paper, we have sent, by mail and by messenger, five copies of the winning numbers in the tombola results. Up to date The Colonist refuses, by default, to give to the interested public the information we desire to discover a logical or cogent reason for this discrimination.

To square ourselves with the public we wish to be known that we have endeavored to act honorably in regard to the tombola by giving the results to both newspapers. The Times alone publishing them. We are grateful to the Times for the ready and helpful support proffered at all times. We also take this opportunity to thank the public for its generous support.

It is our desire to make a happy Yuletide for over 300 needy children of hard-pressed disabled veterans.

SAM D. CRAIG,
Sec. Treas. Ways and Means Committee,

TOO DANGEROUS

To the Editor:—On reading your editorial regarding the new pleasures, war has in store for us. I note your conclusion, that "war is getting altogether too dangerous."

On looking around, I am compelled to say, that very few people seem to agree with that conclusion.

The majority just now are running around, babbling Happy New Year quite oblivious to the dire possibility that inside of ten years there may only be a few mentally and physically broken refugees from civilization to ever recall their dream of a happy year.

It will be a good thing, Mr. Editor, if you would keep on putting before the eyes of the blind population, the source of war, in these economic rivalries, that are the inevitable breeders of the scourge. Tell them who is behind the scenes in Bolivia?

Ask them why so many people are thinking about the unthinkable war between Britain and the United States? It is about the best thing one can do, for if these indifferent, common people so wrapped up in their own petty interests to-day do not halt all war, who else of all the interested parties will?

It is difficult at this late date to conceive of the coming deluge being stopped at all, and some would even say that the social ark might as well be torpedoed in the flood. But bad as it is, civilization is worth an effort to save. So go to it Mr. Editor, and hammer into these dense skulls that the last "war to end war" may yet turn out to be the prelude to a catastrophe appalling to think of.

P. A. FAULKNER.

Ten Big Problems Face House As It Plans For Session

How the Toimie Government proposes to solve the public problems of British Columbia will be revealed for the first time within the next month. With the Legislature meeting on January 22, a bare three weeks remain for the Government to complete the programme which it will lay before the House in an effort to handle a formidable series of vital questions. What the Government intends to suggest to the House will not be known of course until it has met its followers and caucused all its plans, but meanwhile the key issues which are expected to divide the Assembly already have crystallized.

TEN BIG ISSUES

Ten dominant questions face the members as a result of developments since the last session. They are:

- (1) The future of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.
- (2) The revision of provincial finances with the reductions in taxation promised by the Government and a halt in the upward movement of the Provincial debt.
- (3) The future handling of hard liquor and beer.
- (4) Land settlement.
- (5) The fixing of timber royalties and forest policies generally.
- (6) Agricultural marketing.
- (7) Revision of charges against land in the Sumas Reclamation and the South Okanagan Irrigation areas, the Province thus assuming several million dollars of additional debt.
- (8) The future of interior irrigation systems, now heavily in debt to the Province and anxious to avoid part of this obligation.
- (9) Provision of money to carry on extensive road work.
- (10) Creation of machinery for handling public utilities.

P.G.E. IS BIGGEST

Of this half-a-dozen issues, which loom largest on the political horizon at the opening of 1929, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, as usual, is the most formidable. The House will discuss the problem, but that it will take any action is not so certain. So far the Government has engaged only in a survey of the line and contiguous country and, according to recent ministerial utterances, this survey will not be complete before the end of the new year. This may be interpreted as meaning that the Government will have no definite plan for the future of the line until the House meets in 1930, but on the other hand, members of the Cabinet have been quoted as saying publicly that they have received offers for the railway and are optimistic over its disposal. There is no subject on which the Legislature will be more eager to see some light.

TAX REDUCTIONS?

A still greater mystery is how the Government can carry out the programme of expenditure to which it apparently is pledged and at the same time reduce taxation and prevent an increase in the Provincial debt. Already the Government has announced that it will write down its investment in the Sumas and South Okanagan schemes by a large margin, probably by several millions, which will be added to the debt and made a charge against the taxpayers generally in the two areas affected. This alone will involve a substantial new expenditure annually for interest on Government bonds.

Unless the Government can reduce general expenditures in a big way through drastic new economies, or secure large new revenues through present taxes, as a result of improved business, it will find it difficult to reduce its levies and balance its budget at the same time. But it pledged itself during the election campaign so definitely to a curtailment of taxes and a definite halt in the upward movement of the debt that its followers will be disappointed if it cannot cut the income tax and succession duties at least.

TIMBER ROYALTIES

Closely related to this general financial problem is the fixing of timber royalties for the next five years. Before the House opens lumbermen will ask the Government to amend the Royalty Act so as to prevent the increase in royalties now due to come into effect at the beginning of 1930.

This will involve the whole future of timber royalties, for long a serious problem in the Legislature and, of course, will affect Government revenues, a large part of which are made up of payments by the lumber industry to the Government.

In the Government ranks there is a strong element determined to prevent any further increase in royalties and to put the royalty system on an entirely new basis.

As part of its policy in regard to timber royalties, the Government is expected to reveal what steps it plans to carry into effect its pledge to halt the export of raw timber from the Province for outside manufacture.

MARKETING PROBLEMS

Marketing looms as the biggest non-political problem facing the House. At least it has been non-political in the Assembly so far and it is not likely the Government will seek to handle it in any other way. To the farmers of British Columbia the most vital question to-day is the future of the Produce Marketing Act. Should the B.C. Appeal Board rule shortly that the act is valid, the House will be plunged again into the marketing discussions which two years ago resulted in the passage of this statute. The interior fruit industry feels that it cannot allow its business to lapse into the conditions which preceded the passage of the present law and will demand some alternative marketing system if the existing system collapses. It will be for the House to provide this alternative, not only for the interior fruit growers, but also for the potato growers of the Fraser Valley, who are now operating under the statute.

An integral part of this problem is the proposed writing down of the Government's investment in Okanagan irrigation projects. The former ministry agreed to assume twenty-five per cent of the debt of these districts but now the growers are urging that this be raised to thirty-three and a third per cent, and will make a plea for such relief at this session.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

To the great body of British Columbia people the House's deliberations on the advisability of creating a public utilities commission will be affected by the Government's interest. Developments of the last year have brought the Province to a point where public men generally realize the need of some machinery to control public utility operations and rates. A strong drive will be made at this session of the House to secure the creation of such machinery and the Government is expected to take a stand on the issue one way or the other.

Attorney-General Pooley is known to be preparing one surprise packet in the form of a new game law enforcement system, and is said to be planning another in the shape of new Liquor Act amendments of a drastic character. So far Mr. Pooley has said only that he is "taking stock" of the liquor situation, and the results of his stocktaking are awaited on both sides of the House with keen interest.

ROAD EXPENDITURES

Every district in the Province will be affected by the Government's road programme. As usual in recent years the House is expected to authorize a large new road loan, financed by gasoline taxation, but how large remains to be seen. If it meets the road demands of all districts it will have to bring down a loan of unprecedented size.

The session thus presents interesting possibilities in the realm of Government policy as well as new faces on both sides of the House. Before it ends the people of British Columbia should know much better than they do now the calibre of the new Assembly which they elected last July to handle their affairs.

THE NEW LEAF

"The most practical, beautiful and quotable New Year's poem I know—and one which I use every year of my life in some manner," says Dr. W. L. Stidger of the following verses in his "Question Box" in The Homiletic Review (New York). He does not know the author.

HE CAME to my desk with quivering lip,
The lesson was done.
"Have you a new leaf for me, dear Teacher?
I have spoiled this one!"
I took his leaf, all soiled and blotted,
And gave him a new one, all unspotted,
Then into his tired heart I smiled:
"Do better now, my Child!"

I went to the throne, with trembling heart.
The year was done.
"Have you a New Year for me, dear Master?

He took my year, all soiled and blotted,
And gave me a new one, all unspotted,
Then, into my tired heart he smiled:
"Do better now, my Child!"

SEAPLANE VS. LANDPLANE

Arguments in Favor of a Water Type Machine for Commercial Passenger Service Between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

By NORMAN A. YARROW

Not being connected with aeronautical activities, and being somewhat unfamiliar with the merits of the various types of machines for different purposes, I am tempted to form the opinion that a land type machine is not quite the proper type of air craft to be employed on commercial passenger service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, having in view that the routes are over water practically the entire time.

It is true that between Victoria and Vancouver you are within plain distance of land in the form of islands, for the majority of the way, but to my mind, it is very problematical whether a safe landing could be made on these islands, in view of the fact that they are, in most cases, rocky, steep and heavily wooded, and I venture to think that, in the case of a land machine, having to make a forced landing whilst in the vicinity of these islands, it would be the better of the two evils, if not necessary to alight on the water, endeavoring, presumably, to complete the descent as near to shore as is possible under the circumstances, in order to afford a better chance of escape for those on board, and also to eliminate the possibility of the aeroplane sinking in water too deep for sailing.

The existence of land does not necessarily follow that a land type machine can make a landing thereon, but in practically every case it does follow that a seaplane, or flying boat, operating on the routes in question, can alight where there is water.

SAFE LANDINGS

In flying from Victoria to Vancouver, or Seattle, in a water type machine a safe water landing could be made at any time en route should necessity arise, and in the case of stormy days when the sea is rough, indicating strong wind and resultant clear weather, sufficient altitude would presumably be maintained so that the pilot could plane his machine to the lee side of any island.

It appears to me that if you have water underneath you for the greater part of the journey, a seaplane should be adopted; the Imperial Airways, that operate a passenger service between London and Paris, use land machines because the greater part of their journey they are flying over land and their terminals are inland cities.

I appreciate the fact that a seaplane is a more costly craft than a land machine, and due to the somewhat greater weight of floats over the undercarriage of the land type machine, reduces the carrying capacity of the machine accordingly and thus decreases the earning power of the air craft.

It is argued that a land plane flying over water is safe from the dangers of a forced landing when the machine is equipped with three engines, so that flying control is obtained in the case of the one engine failing to operate, thus the danger of flying over water with a land aircraft is offset by a multi-engine. This argument is, to a very large extent, sound, providing that two out of the three engines will keep the machine air-borne and controllable when loaded to capacity.

When it is considered that Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle are located by the sea, each in possession of good harbors, it does appear that the water type of air craft is the one to be adopted; the main base, with the skidways for taking the machines out of the water, and the hangars, to be located in Victoria, if a Victoria enterprise.

LANDING PASSENGERS

It is advanced that landing passengers in boats from a seaplane is an operation to be avoided, owing to the inconvenience and delay, but I believe this apparent difficulty can be successfully met by having a specially constructed floating platform of sufficient size connected to the shore by a hinged gangway. A tri-motor machine, with floats fitted with controllable rudders, can be manoeuvred with a good deal of accuracy, and if the pier extends well out into the water, the plane can come alongside on the shore side, or sea side, dependent on the wind direction. A landing structure of this description will suit all stages of the various tides, and the floating feature of the platform will enable it and the plane to move, to a large extent, in harmony with one another.

It may be remarked that this method would give two directions in which to taxi up to the pier, which is true, but not serious, as such landing piers should, of course, be located in sheltered places, and in this connection it may be remembered that the most important operation, namely, the actual alighting on the water from the air, can be made in the open against whatever direction the wind may be blowing at the time, whereas due to the shape and size of the present flying fields, the actual landing from the air will have to be made at times across wind.

The main base would, of course, have wooden skidways in order to remove the plane from the water, and if provided with cradles on wheels, are made, fitting the float shapes, the machine will, in all probability, take itself out of the water with its own power once it is landed on the cradle. The expenses of maintaining seaplane landing places and a base will surely compare most favorably with the cost of upkeep of an aerodrome, including rental or interest on capital, if purchased.

It is not desirable to make frequent landings on a sandy beach or sloping "wooded" skidway, owing to the danger of damaging the somewhat delicate floats, loosening rivets, causing leakage, etc.

STUDY CLIMATE

In considering the best type of machine for the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle service, the climatic conditions must be studied. During certain periods of the year, bad local fogs are encountered in the vicinity of Vancouver and Seattle, and, as visibility ranks among the most important necessities in flying, fog is, therefore, one of the greatest difficulties the airman has to contend with. A land machine, flying from Victoria to Vancouver, or Seattle, leaving Victoria in clear weather and learning by telephone that the weather is fine at destination is very apt at certain times to run into a thick fog, or fog en route, and, owing to being unable to alight on the water, would have to proceed through the fog by compass, with the risk of getting badly off-course by side-drifting, and the difficulty of finding the aerodrome on arrival at its destination, if fog should have spread over the landing field. The other alternative when encountering fog would be to return to Victoria, which not only would be extremely annoying and inconvenient to passengers and delay to mails, but would be very detrimental to the progress of commercial flying, as regularly to reach the destination once a flight is commenced is an all-essential point, even if you arrive late, in the same way that ships are often delayed for the same reason.

A seaplane or flying boat leaving Victoria with good visibility and encountering heavy fog could always come down on the water, stop the engines, and listen for bells, whistles, and other aids to navigation, and thus get its bearings, and if the fog is too thick to take the air with safety, it could proceed on the water like a boat. The presence of fog indicates a lack of wind, and, therefore, the sea will be sufficiently calm to run like a motor boat.

It is true that the hull of a flying boat, or the floats of a seaplane, are not intended to be used as a boat, but having in view that they are designed and constructed to run on the sea even in choppy weather at least fifty miles an hour, for taking-off and alighting purposes, it is not unreasonable to taxi along at, say, twenty-five or twenty miles an hour, which is a fast enough speed if the fog is bad.

CONFIDENCE OF PUBLIC

One of the important features in promoting, establishing and operating air services is to gain the confidence of the travelling public, and I am of the opinion that a greater degree of confidence would be gained if a water type aircraft were used for flying between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, as it undoubtedly gives a greater factor of safety. I do not mean to cater to public opinion before efficiency and economy, but, in any enterprise so new as aerial transportation, public opinion and confidence must not be entirely lost sight of; I, for one, would feel happier in a seaplane or flying boat than I would in a land machine when flying to the Mainland from Victoria, and if I were an underwriter, I think I would ask a higher premium on the lives of passengers who fly in a land type craft.

If it be considered as essential that the terminal points be located inland, then, no doubt, an amphibian craft would meet the case, but that will be an expensive craft and will mean carrying about a good deal of extra weight out of proportion to the probable use it will be made of. In other words, why carry both when one will do? It will also be seen that a greater reduction in passenger carry capacity will result than if it were simply a seaplane.

In conclusion, I wish to stress that my arguments here in favor of a passenger carrying aeroplane, flying on the routes under discussion, that can alight on and take off from the water, are not only based on the possibility of a forced descent being necessary, due to mechanical failure, but advanced from the viewpoint that there may be times when a voluntary descent to earth is advisable, if not necessary, owing to weather conditions, and not mechanical troubles.

CANADA'S 1928 Export Sales Review

Canada Enters 1929 with Hopes Well Grounded

TO-DAY the great race among the aggressive nations of the world is for export trade.

What is Canada's position in this far-flung competition?

Though ranking 28th in population, this New Year finds Canada:

Fifth in total exports
Third in absolute trade balance
Second in per capita exports
First in per capita trade balance

For the year ended November last Canada's export trade amounted to 1,349 million dollars.

The favourable trade balance at the end of November was 162 million dollars.

In six years Canada's export trade has grown from 754 million dollars to 1,349 million dollars—a business achievement in which all Canadians can take pride.

A recent survey shows 6,500 groups of articles, fully or partially manufactured in this country, while approximately 1,600 Canadian firms or corporations are active exporters.

Canada can look forward with confidence to a still further increase in export trade. Almost daily our Trade Commissioners, located in the world's strategic business centres, tell of growing demands for Canadian products.

During the past year the Department of Trade and Commerce has made intensive efforts to demonstrate to Canadian manufacturers and producers their opportunities abroad. Many of the Trade Commissioners have been brought home for a few weeks to interview personally Canadian firms with respect to varied export problems. They have shown that to be successful every Canadian entering export trade should:

1. Maintain quality standards.
2. Make the articles required by the importer.

3. Pack in the manner the importer desires.
4. Deliver promptly.
5. Maintain contract dates.

Additions have been made to Trade Commissioners' staffs. Trade enquiries and trade trends from abroad have been given wide publicity in Canada. Canadian products, displayed prominently at numerous exhibitions in Great Britain, have excited unusual interest. Buyers in other countries have been shown what Canada has to sell.

Steamship services from Canada to foreign lands, particularly to South America and the British West Indies, have been greatly augmented.

THE RESULTS ARE BECOMING CONSPICUOUS.

Again the Department of Trade and Commerce wishes to emphasize the importance of export trade to the prosperity of this country:

1. It stabilizes employment.
2. It lowers production costs.
3. It keeps our dollar at par.

Canada now has 25 Trade Commissioners' offices abroad. Men trained in the Commercial Intelligence Service have headquarters in these offices. They are acquainted with the requirements of the people in their territory. They will conduct preliminary surveys regarding the marketability of any Canadian product. They will put the Canadian exporter into touch with reliable representatives, or introduce his travellers to reputable trade houses. They constantly help in maintaining business contacts.

These Trade Commissioners communicate the latest trade developments in their fields to the Commercial Intelligence Service of this Department. The information they gather is at the disposal of every Canadian exporter or every Canadian interested in export trade.

Write to-day to the Commercial Intelligence Service, Ottawa, about your products and your capacity to participate in export trade. A big opportunity may be yours.

Stubborn Cough Quickly Ended by Famous Recipe

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that usually follow the "flu."

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

BUTTON TO MARK ANNIVERSARIES OF CATHEDRAL

Young People of Christ Church Have Novel Plan to Aid Baptistery Fund

Boys and girls may be seen to-day wearing a new button that made its first public appearance with the New Year. It has been made to the order of an enterprising group of young people who had two objects in view. The first was to commemorate a number of anniversaries that fall in 1929, and will be observed in the city next month. These anniversaries tell the story of the first school held in Victoria eighty years ago; of the first church which was being built here seventy-five years ago; and of the first Bishop of British Columbia, who was appointed by Queen Victoria, seventy years ago.

Even farther back than that, the button is to remind Victorians of one whose name is now unknown, but who is described as being "a highly respectable Canadian Merchant." One hundred and ten years ago, this member of the North West Fur Company interested himself in the spiritual welfare of the West Coast natives, and appealed to the Church Missionary Society in England "to establish a mission among the Indians beyond the Rocky Mountains."

ANNIVERSARY BAZAAR

The second object of the button is to mark the year 1929 as the year set for the completion of the first unit of the new Christ Church Cathedral. To observe all these events the young people's and children's committee have planned for the Seventeenth Anniversary Exhibition and Bazaar, to be held in the Memorial Hall from February 6 to 9.

As their share in this big undertaking, these young people are working for a fund which they themselves started, and through which they hope to be able to see that the baptistery and "children's corner" are finished and furnished before the autumn, and provided with stained glass windows.

BUTTONS DISTRIBUTED

The buttons bear a very neat design, which has been taken from a drawing of the cathedral architect, J. C. M. Keith. Around the top are the words "Cathedral Builder," and underneath the centre picture there is written, "Victoria, 1929."

By a resolution of the young people's and children's committee, "button is to be given to every boy and girl who gives twenty-five cents or more to the baptistery fund, or who buys a season ticket for the exhibition held for the same purpose. Adults may have a souvenir button upon giving not less than fifty cents to the baptistery fund, or by purchasing an adult's season ticket for the exhibition."

It was the committee's desire from the first to make it possible for nearly every child and young person, as well as adults of the most limited means, to share in the distinction of helping to build what is already recognized to be one of the finest cathedrals in the whole of Canada.

WHERE OBTAINABLE

A distributing committee was formed, and has reported that the buttons and season tickets may be obtained this week at the following places: Davis and King Ltd., 719 Fort Street; Fletcher Bros. Ltd., 1410 Douglas Street; Five

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

FRAMING THE HAND WORK

One Mother Says—
"Competition in the space of time is one of my motives which I used in raising my three children. In order that there may be more incentive for better handwork at school, I purchased three cheap but neat picture frames, the size of school drawing paper. These we hung in the nursery. On Saturday we select the best piece of work from each child's weekly collection and that which remains in the frame until the following Saturday. This has proven a source of inspiration for better work."

WELCOME 1929 AT CRYSTAL GARDEN

Many Dancers Usher in New Year By Singing "Auld Lang Syne"

To the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" some 250 revelers welcomed in the New Year at the Crystal Garden as the chimes struck twelve on Monday night. With arms interlocked, the entire assembly halted their revels to sing the well-known Scottish folk song before resuming their dance in the early moments of 1929.

Throughout the evening a spirit of joyous fun pervaded the atmosphere of the gaily decorated ballroom where "Billie" Tickle's orchestra played the old year out. Vari-colored Japanese lanterns, toy balloons of every conceivable hue, tinsel trees and red and green streamers furnished tasteful decorations for the occasion which was one of the brightest held in the building.

Toy whistles, horns, and other noise-making instruments kept the ballroom in an uproar. Supper was served shortly after 11 o'clock.

Among those who attended the function were: Mr. and Mrs. Child and party, Mr. A. J. Maynard and party, Mr. W. A. Patterson and party, Mr. G. S. Burns and party, Mr. E. Mallek, Mr. E. S. Olibert, Mr. T. Cusance, Mr. J.

NANCY PAGE

WOOL DRESSES GO WITH BLACK VELVET BOLERS

By Florence La Gasse

The favorite outfit for the time being at least, of the Lacey children was a combination and velvet bolero. The smallest child wore her frock without a belt and her collar was made of the same material. The two older girls wore the stiff Eton collars. Their Windsor ties were the same color as the bolero. The velvet boleros were scalloped along the lower edge of sleeve and jacket. A small pocket was inserted. This held a sheer white handkerchief. Their socks were plain and their shoes sturdy and simple. The plaid was in wood brown shades. Sometimes ties and belts were dull green, sometimes vivid orange.

In making the dresses the fullness was obtained by putting inverted plaits at each side. The dresses were put on a bodice so that they bloused slightly at the back. This bodice was easily removable and washable, which is always a desirable feature in wool dresses. The girls were all wearing their hair fairly long. It hung out from their French berets. The girls looked well dressed and yet unconscious of their clothes. That is always a true test of the well dressed person, whether she be six, sixteen or sixty.

Cubs Fail to Get By Stiff Defence And Vancouver Wins

Lions Advance Farther Into Leadership of Pacific Coast Hockey League By Taking Victoria Into Camp 3-1; Defence of Mainlanders Puts Up Fine Exhibition, With Art Somers the Star; Bill Borland, Captain of the Victoria Club, Is Badly Cut by Skate; Victoria Held Early Lead

Presenting a defence that Victoria just couldn't penetrate, the Vancouver Lions, leaders of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, won a sweet game from the Cubs at the Willows Arena yesterday afternoon by a 3-1 score. The game was a fast one, with plenty of excitement, but it was not a very nice New Year's present for the Cubs to hand the home town fans.

The game was marred by a bad accident to Bill Borland, captain and left defence man of the Cubs. During the second period he bodychecked Beattie, both players falling to the ice. Borland caught his forehead on a skate, opening up a cut about four inches long. He was carried off the ice, and was off for the rest of the game, the doctor putting six stitches in his head to close up the gash.

LIONS FAR AHEAD

Vancouver by their victory are so far out in front of the league averages that it will take any of the teams a mighty long time to catch them. Victoria still reside in second place, with Portland in their position, while Seattle follow in last place.

Vancouver are now assured a place in the play-offs and the Lions are in the near future should end the season on top of the league. They have a smooth working club, and with the addition of Beattie, Edmonton amateur, Frank Patrick appears to have the best club in the league.

With Doug Brennan and Jerry presenting a stonewall defence it can be easily seen why young Percy Jackson has hung up so many shut-outs. Only once during the whole of yesterday's game did Victoria get right through the Vancouver defence, and on the occasion Jackson blocked Osmundsen's shot.

Pridham, Seattle defence man, played with the Cubs, taking Jimmy Evans's place at centre ice. However, he was at sea and the Cubs sorely missed their little centre man who is laid up with the flu.

SOMERS IS STAR

Art Somers, as usual, was the star of the Vancouver team. He played a wonderful "backcheck" game, and after Vancouver got the lead stayed right in front of his own blue line, acting as a third defence man. This made it all the tougher for the Victoria forwards to get into shooting range.

Jack Kelly worked hard for Victoria, but he was a marked man, and at one time he came near Vancouver's goal two men were checking him. The game was only a minute and forty-five seconds old when Victoria went into the lead.

The goal came as a big surprise to everyone as the fans had just got nicely settled into their seats. Carrying the puck down the left board, Doug Brennan drove in a fast shot that Jackson cleared. Still skating fast, Runge picked up the rebound, cycled the puck in behind Jackson. It was a good goal and came after a pretty bit of work.

This put added pep into the clubs, and Victoria kept on the offensive with the Vancouver defence men laying on the wood rather heavily. Sanderson got home Vancouver's first real shot when he drove a hot one. Robertson, on the left board, the goalie fell to his knees to save. Beattie, making his return after taking a forced rest on account of a match penalty, was skating fast, and his shots gave Jackson lots of worry. Jerry took a pass from Beattie in front of the Victoria net, but he was unable to get in his shot.

Vancouver tied up the game when Beattie skated in fast to pick up a loose puck and then picked the corner of the net. The two Victoria defence men were wrestling with two other Vancouver forwards at the time.

Jerry and Runge were banished to the penalty box for a little rough work. Somers gave the Victoria defence to pick-up the puck and drawing Robertson out of the net. The battling little forward slapped the puck into an empty goal.

Kenny was given a two-minute rest for heavy checking on Somers. Paul Runge sent in a fast one and Pridham missed a chance to score, letting the rebound get away from him. The rebound to Bill Borland left Victoria without one of her regular defence men. After being on the ice for only a few minutes Kenny was given his second penalty of the period for tripping Brennan.

LIONS SCORE AGAIN

Victoria with one man short, Vancouver scored their third and final goal. Doug Brennan drove in a snaky little shot from the blue line that slipped into the corner of the net for the loveliest goal of the game. From this stage on Vancouver played a stiff defensive

Cubs To Meet Lions at Home This Evening

After taking a licking at the hands of the league leading Vancouver Lions yesterday afternoon at the Willows Arena, the Victoria Cubs embarked on this afternoon's bout for Vancouver to engage the Lions in the Mainland city to-night.

CHECKS PLAY CAPS TO-NIGHT

Portland Bringing Same Hoop Team as Last Year; College Meet Crescents

All roads for basketball fans will lead to the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-night, when the crack Checkerboard quintette of Portland, Ore., will play the Victoria Capitals.

The "Caps," just back from a successful trip through the Interior, will be out to gain revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of the Portland aggregation. The Victoria team will have Norm Forbes and Louis Pait at guard; "Stew" Skillings at centre and Jack McKenzie, Tom Wachter, and Gordon Willoughby forwards. The Portland team will have most of last year's players here with one or two new faces added.

A very good preliminary game has been arranged to start at 8 o'clock, with Victoria College playing the Crescents. These two teams generally decide their contest at the 15-minute margin, and plenty of thrills await the spectators prior to the big game.

"Y" Defeat Bacpos Entering Final In L.I.F.A. Cup Contest

Netting four goals in the second half while the Bacpos remained scoreless, the Y.M.C.A. junior soccer team yesterday won its way into the final of the Lower Island Junior Football Association Cup series at the Royal Athletic Park. The winners will meet James Island in the final for the trophy.

Waking up after a listless first half, the Y.M.C.A. opened the scoring ten minutes after the rest period when Owens netted a penalty kick. A few minutes later, McKinnon added another counter to the "Y's" total. The goal led to a dispute between the Bacpos fullbacks and the referee, the former maintaining that the ball had gone out previous to the shot. However, the referee refused to allow the protests and banished Pearce and Hogarth from the field.

For the rest of the game Bacpos played with only nine men and although they put up a game fight were unable to hold the "Y's." McKinnon and Stark each scored another goal before the match ended to make the final count stand at 4-0.

Y.M.C.A.—Patterson, Hammill, Engelson, Bailey, Owens, Bourne, Hetherington, McKinnon, Stark, Smith and Hill.

Ethel Lackie To Leave Ranks Of The Simon Pares

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Miss Ethel Lackie, holder of six world's sprint swimming records and a national champion, has announced her intention of leaving the ranks of the Simon Pares swimming club to return from amateur competition.

Following the example of Johnny Weissmuller, a former team mate, Miss Lackie announced her intention of turning in her amateur card after the Cook County inter-scholastic swimming meet Thursday. Miss Lackie swam under the colors of the Illinois Athletic Club until that club broke up its women's organization.

Miss Lackie said she probably would teach swimming at a club or school but had no intention of appearing on the stage or in the movies.

WINS DECISION

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 2.—Freddie Miller, Cincinnati featherweight, won the decision over Cecil Payne, Louisville, Ky., in a ten-round bout here yesterday.

The Midland Marvel —By Jimmy Thompson

HAPPY DAY THE CAPTAIN OF THE MAPLE LEAFS WHO MADE ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL COME-BACKS—IN PRO-HOCKEY THIS YEAR

Happy Day, the Midland boy, one of the Maple Leaf team, has now regained the form which made him one of the most feared men in the N.H.L. last season. Fans will remember that last year with Day and Ching Johnson running neck and neck for scoring honors. Day was cut down in a game at Montreal in a manner which threatened to put him out of hockey for all time.

With the best surgical treatment the wound gradually healed and coupled with expert massaging and careful living, Day has since effected a complete recovery.

After playing junior and intermediate at Midland for some time, Day moved to Hamilton where he played right defence on the team which gave the Toronto Granites such a battle for the Senior O.H.A. title. At the close of the season, Tiger supporters voted Happy Day the most useful man on the Hamilton Club, which honor netted him a suit of clothes.

Last year he joined the Toronto St. Pats, who were in a prolonged slump. Day played left wing for sixty minutes of every game and the club made a sensational climb to first place. After the Maple Leafs took over the team, St. Patrick Club Day was moved back to his proper position on the defence, where he has been a standout ever since.

Bill Borland Is Sold To Seattle Eskimos

Victoria Cubs Receive Cash Payment and Norm Pridham in Exchange For Their Playing Captain; Former Winnipegper Will Leave Cubs After Tonight's Game in Vancouver; Pridham to Be Worked In On Forward Line; Cliff O'Meara Will Rejoin Team Friday

Bill Borland, playing captain of the Victoria Cubs, has been sold to the Seattle Eskimos for a chunk of money and Norm Pridham, according to an announcement made to-day by Manager Joe Smith before he departed with his team for Vancouver.

Borland, who received a nasty cut in the forehead during yesterday's game with Vancouver, when he fell on a skate, will leave the Cubs after their game to-night with the Lions and in the future will wear a Seattle uniform. Manager Smith stated to-day he did not expect Borland to play to-night as he was still pretty wobbly. Borland lost considerable blood through the accident.

BORLAND A VETERAN

Borland came to the Cubs with a number of players formerly with the Winnipeg Maroons. He is a veteran of a technical knockout decision, many reasons, but his work so far did not impress Manager Smith.

The trade will come as a big surprise to the local fans as at the start of the season Borland was expected to be one of the best defence men in the league.

Pridham, who comes to Victoria in the trade, has been playing as one of the regular defence men with the Eaks, being paired along with Johansson. He played with the Cubs yesterday, replacing Jimmy Evans at centre ice, where he was not altogether at home. He is a young fellow, and with coaching should develop into a first-class player. Manager Smith hopes to work Pridham in as a forward.

O'MEARA COMING BACK

Cliff O'Meara, the regular right winger of the Cubs, who was injured some weeks ago during a game in Seattle, will rejoin the Cubs on Friday. Manager Smith stated to-day, he has recovered from his injuries and with his return the Cubs forward line should be strengthened considerably.

SANGOR LANDS LOW BLOWS AND BEATS MORGAN

Junior Lightweight Champion Shows Great Gameness Refusing to Win By Foul

After Low Blow Morgan Fails to Show His Old Speed; Is Still Champion

Milwaukee, Jan. 2.—Joey Sangor of Milwaukee, knocked out two weeks ago by an opponent he figured to be a pushover, staged a remarkable comeback by decisively defeating Tod Morgan of Seattle, Wash., junior lightweight champion, in a smashing ten-round battle here yesterday afternoon. The only reason Sangor is not the new ruler of the 140-pound division is because the Wisconsin law prohibits decision by referee or judges. Sangor, however, won the verdict in the opinion of the majority of the newspaper experts, with only one or two dissenting.

MORGAN IS GAME

Morgan had a chance to win the fight in the fourth round, when, during a ferocious toe-to-toe rally in mid-ring, Sangor cut loose with a sweeping left hook that sunk deep in foul territory. It was the second foul blow Sangor landed in this session. Morgan sank to his knees, apparently suffering intense pain, but gamely refused to take the fight on a foul, and resumed the battle after a short rest.

From then on Sangor moved out in front, taking the play away from the weakened Seattle boy by a furious body attack in close and shot left and right punches to the head.

The match, fought in the Milwaukee Auditorium, drew a capacity crowd of 8,500 with receipts from $25,000 to $30,000. It was the biggest gate in Milwaukee since the days of Ritchie Mitchell.

Sangor was busy all the time in the last five rounds, pounding away with both fists to the body with Morgan frequently in the greater part of the game, hampered play considerably and the slippery condition of the pitch soon turned the field into a quagmire.

Vancouver scored a try in the first half to open the scoring. Lawman went over in the right hand corner after a hard scrimmage, about three-quarters way through the period. Pete Wilson was injured in his half and left the field. Upon resuming play, Hec Urquhart was also missing from the Vancouver line-up, he having broken two ribs in the first half.

With but thirteen men, Vancouver continued to press and were rewarded when Hilo dribbled the ball down the field and Choate beat two goals to it over the line. Varsity threatened and finally broke into the scoring when Locke converted a penalty kick from a nasty angle at about twenty-five yards range.

PATTERSON IS STAR

Young Jack Patterson, youthful fullback for the Vancouver squad, turned in a fine game, although he had a difficult task with a slippery ball to handle. He was hard pressed by the collegians, especially in the last half, but more than did his share in holding up his team's end.

The two Barratt brothers, Bertie and Phil, were the outstanding pair for the red-shirted Varsity. They were on the ball all afternoon, and it was very important that in almost every three-quarter run down the field, Phil Williams, captain of the U.B.C. fifteen, and Bill Locke, were also in good form.

The teams: Vancouver—Rowan, Farmer, Duple, Kotts, Jones, Patterson, Wilson, Barry, Niblo, Urquhart, Choate, Donaldson, Lawman, Bain and Cameron. Varsity—Locke, McNeill, Estabrook, Mason, Player, Murray, Wilson, Phil Barratt, Cottrell, Williams, Skarck, Fell, Farris, Forester and Bertie Barratt.

Toronto Skater Is U.S. Champion

Newburgh, N.Y., Jan. 2.—Skating under conditions more fit for a swimming match, Margaret McBride, Toronto skating ace, won the Middle Atlantic senior skating championship for girls last night. She won all three events on the cars.

The events were 220 yards, 440 yards, and 880 yards.

"Wildcat" Carter Is Easy Winner

Portland, Jan. 2.—"Wildcat" Carter, the ebony phantom from Everett, made short work of Johnny Lemar of Hollywood, here yesterday afternoon, awarding a technical knockout decision to Carter in the intermission between the fourth and fifth rounds.

Carter split the Mexican's lip in the fourth, and he was a gory spectacle. Carter already had taken the first three rounds by a wide margin. Carter weighed 133 and Lemar, 134.

Varsity Track Team Wins Race

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—University of British Columbia relay team defeated Vancouver Amateur Athletic Club in an exhibition 440-yard race, in which Percy Williams, Olympic sprint champion, ran for U.B.C. V.A.A.C. held the lead right up to the last lap, when Harry Johnston fell, and Williams coasted to the last lap. The teams: University of British Columbia—Gael, Shields, Terry and Williams. Vancouver Amateur Athletic Club—Flanagan, Morrison, Cathcart and Johnston.

APPLAUDED FOR GAMENESS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 2.—Midget Mike O'Dowd of Columbus, Ohio, easily defeated Jackie Rodgers, Pittsburgh negro bantamweight in ten rounds here yesterday. Sports seemed to get down nine of the ten rounds, while Rodgers was applauded for his gameness.

KING TUT WINS

Fargo, N.D., Jan. 2.—King Tut, Minnesota, was crowned champion of the world over Rusele Leroy of Fargo in ten rounds here yesterday. Leroy had the better of it early, but as the bout progressed Tut seemed to get stronger, while Leroy weakened under the terrific pace. Each weighed 138 pounds.

"Dixie" Dean Gives Fine Exhibition And Everton Wins

Great Centre-forward Scores Three Goals—When His Team Defeats Derby County 4-0; Everton Within Striking Distance of Leaders of First Division; Sheffield Wednesday, League Leaders, Gain Draw With Huddersfield; Middlesbrough Inflicts Defeat On Tottenham

London, Jan. 2.—The wonderful form displayed by "Dixie" Dean, centre-forward for the Everton team, in a First Division English soccer league match yesterday, was the sensation in New Year's Day games. He scored three goals for his club against Derby County. Dunn got Everton's fourth. Dean netted first in the initial half and twice after the interval, through clever work. The victory brings Everton, who won the league championship last season, to within striking distance of the clubs leading the averages at the present time. Forty thousand saw the game, which was staged at Evrton.

VARISITY LOSE IN RUGBY GAME

Defeated 6-3 By Vancouver in Opening Match For McKechnie Cup

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—Vancouver English Ruggers strengthened their hold on the McKechnie Cup yesterday, when they defeated Varsity 6-3 at the Brockton Point oval. A heavy rain, which fell during the greater part of the game, hampered play considerably and the slippery condition of the pitch soon turned the field into a quagmire.

Vancouver scored a try in the first half to open the scoring. Lawman went over in the right hand corner after a hard scrimmage, about three-quarters way through the period. Pete Wilson was injured in his half and left the field. Upon resuming play, Hec Urquhart was also missing from the Vancouver line-up, he having broken two ribs in the first half.

N. H. L. Teams Still Bunching Together In Thrilling Race

Five Games Last Night Serve Only to Break Tie For Third Place In American Group; Four Teams In International Section Closer Together Than Ever; Rangers Hold Lead by Win Over Toronto; Canadiens and New York Americans Battle to Draw; Maroons In Second Place When Nels Stewart Leads Them to 4-2 Win Over Pittsburgh

Toronto, Jan. 2.—With more than one-third of the season gone in the National Hockey League, it seems that the race should be spreading out a bit, but, except for two talented teams, just the opposite is happening. Five games last night served only to break the tie for third place in the American group and bring the four teams that are battling for the top of the international group closer together.

The Boston Bruins broke into the victory column by beating Ottawa 3-0, while the Pirates were losing to the Montreal Maroons. Ottawa remains at the bottom of the international division.

RANGERS RETAIN MARGIN

Detroit—Owing to the loss of the New York Rangers, American section leader, by handing the Chicago Black Hawks a second straight defeat by a 2-1 score.

The Rangers obtained their three-point margin of leadership by taking a fast game from Toronto, 3-2. The defeat dropped Toronto in the international group into a tie for third place.

The Maroons took undisputed possession of second place when Stewart led them to a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh. He scored three goals.

HIGH SPEED GAME
A high speed game that ended in a one-all tie between the New York Americans and the Montreal Canadiens brought further complications in the standings. The single point carried the Flyers Frenchmen into a deadlock with Toronto for third place, while it cost the Americans a valuable point in their slim margin over the Maroons.

New York, Jan. 2.—The Flying Frenchmen of Montreal, the Canadiens, brought their winged skates to Madison Square Garden last night for the first time this season and skated to a one-to-one tie with the New York Americans in a speedy N.H.L. game.

Fifteen penalties were given out, and lines of 235 were plastered on Broad-bent and Conacher. Broadbent tried to stage a battle with Burke in the penalty box, while the American captain tried to argue with the referee when he was penalized in the overtime period.

The lineups were:
Canadiens—Hainesworth, Mantha, Burke, Morenz, Gagne, Joliat, Leach, Carson, Mondou, Lepine, Patterson and Lesieur.
Americans—Worters, Reis, Conacher, Burch, Broadbent, Conner, Himes, McIntyre, Simpson, Spring, Dye and Sheppard.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Americans, Himes, 9:18.
Second period—No score.
Third period—2, Canadiens, Morenz, 10:13.
Overtime period—No score.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—The New York Rangers kept their sectional lead in the National Hockey League here to night when they defeated Toronto 3 to 2. The game was probably the most speedy seen here this season, the visiting Rangers cutting loose with a burst of speed from the start that was pretty well sustained throughout.

The lineups were:
Rangers—Roach, Abel, Bourguet, Murdoch, Thompson, Keeling, Boucher, Bill Cook, Bun Cook, Lane and Ostrman.
Toronto—Chabot, Day, Smith, Carson, Bailey, Cox, Duncan, Lowery, Blair and Horne.

SUMMARY
First period—No score.
Second period—1, Rangers, Bill Cook, 14:30.
Third period—3, Rangers, Bun Cook, 2:30; 3, Toronto, Smith, 12:00; 4, Rangers, Bill Cook, 3:00.

Boston, Jan. 2.—The Boston Bruins regained their winning stride here last night by shutting out the Ottawa Senators 3-0 before a crowd of 15,000.

Harry Oliver, Bruins wing man, was the hero of the night, scoring two of the goals.

The third Boston score was caged by Clapper, with Gahner assisting, while Smith and Boucher were in the penalty box.

The lineups were:
Boston—Thompson, Hitchman, Shore, Mackay, Galbraith, Oliver, Pettenger, Gahner, Green, Rodden, Clapper, Wetland and Denney.

Ottawa—Connell, Boucher, Clancy, Smith, Touhey, Finnegan, Shields, Nighthall, Kilrea, Halliday, Grosvenor and Elliott.

SUMMARY
First period—No score.
Second period—1, Boston, Oliver, 8:48.
Third period—2, Boston, Clapper, 12:00.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 2.—The Montreal Maroons started the New Year right by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates in a National Hockey League game here last night, 4 to 2. Nels Stewart, gigantic winger for the Maroons, proved a bulwark for his team, netting three goals, assisting in another and playing an all-round bang-up game.

The lineups were:
Pittsburgh—Miller, Smith, McKinnon, Fredrickson, Darragh, Milks, McCaffery, Drury, White, Holway, Cotton and McCurry.
Montreal—Walsh, Dutton, Hicks, H. Smith, Ward, Stewart, Munro, Siebert, Phillips and Robinson.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Montreal, Stewart, 3:47.
Second period—2, Montreal, Stewart, 4:27; 3, Montreal, H. Smith, 4:10; 4, Pittsburgh, Drury, 6:21; 5, Montreal, Stewart, 6:00.
Third period—6, Pittsburgh, Milks, 15:20.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The Detroit Cougars made it two straight over the Black Hawks in three nights, downing the Chicago sextette last night, 2 to 1, in a N.H.L. game here. Although lacking the individual brilliancy of the Hawks, the Detroit aggregation put on two flashy rallies that scored once in the first period and again in the second, and then turned into a six-man defence.

The lineups were:
Detroit—Gardner, Westworth, Taylor, Ripley, Irvin, Arbour, Loughlin, McKinnon, Couture and Gottselig.
Detroit—Dolson, Noble, Bridg, Lewis, Cooper, Hay, Traub, Herberts and Brophie.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Cougars, Cooper, 9:25.
Second period—2, Cougars, Lewis, 2:15; 3, Black Hawks, Ripley, 3:55.
Third period—No score.

HORSE RACING

Tia Juana, Jan. 2.—The 1929 Tia Juana meet opened with at least 30,000 turf fans present, who gave free vent to their joy from the opener, a race for the "baby class" two-year-olds of 1929, right through nine scheduled events until the shadows began to fall.

Spirited finishes in a majority of the events, better than an equal division of results between favorites and near first choices, and a lightning fast over surface had much to do with sending Tia Juana's banner crowd home happy.

The Sunshot Stable's entry, Hiram, a three-year-old of Golden State, was made the favorite of the first honors of the new year, in the handicap tussle. Covering the mile in 1:37 4-5, just 3-5 of a second slower than the track record made by Little Chief, Hiram brought them all up standing as he swept by the judges' stand a length in front of Jim Pryor.

Seventeen stylishly sleek lookers filled the state position at the head of the stretch in the "baby" race. They got away well bunched, Lila Strwell on the outside quickly raced into the lead and maintained the advantage of a length to the finish.

Results follow:
First race, two furlongs—Lila Strwell, $13.40, $6.50, $4; Ultimate Vote, $5.00, $4; Spartacus, $6.00. Time, 23. Second race, six furlongs—Lusard, $12.20, $7.20, $4.40; Green Springs, $11.80, $5.40; Al Hotfoot, $5.20. Time, 1:12 4-5.

Third race, mile and seventy yards—Sweeping Ray, $9.00, $5.40, $3.60; Sporting Vein, $5.40, $3.20; Battle On, $5. Time, 1:45.

JIM JEFFRIES
His Own Story
As Told to HUGH FULLERTON

CHAPTER XII, CONTINUED
The jump to Europe, my first trip was a great adventure, and I saw very clearly the difference between the position of a fighter there and in the United States. In fact, most of what I saw made me more satisfied with the United States. I met many eminent people. I met the Prince of Wales, Lord Bessford and many others. Usually, excepting with a few, I had a feeling that they were condescending to meet a fighter. That, however, was not true of the Prince or of Bessford, who was more like an American than most Americans are.

Bessford I met at the National Sporting Club. I was with Gene Corri, the famous London sporting leader, and he was then an admiral, and when he was introduced he chuckled and said:

"You look like a couple of waiters." We had on evening clothes and silk hats, and looked the part. He was so jolly and companionable, and talked such good American and swore like one, that I felt at home. He knew boxing, too, and discussed it as an expert until finally I remarked:

"You have spent a lot of time with Americans."

"You bet I have," he said. "I've been chummy with Americans for a good many years. I like them—the real ones."

However, I discovered that not all the English like Americans, especially those who have been in a situation which came near an international scrap. Pony Moore, then famous as a sportsman, who was the father-in-law of Charlie Mitchell, who had been a heavyweight fighter and was now a Corbett, gave a great dinner in my honor and invited most of the Americans in London he could find. There were about a hundred Americans at the event. I don't know what else to call it, because we had lunch at one o'clock in the afternoon and dinner at nine in the evening, and nothing but champagne served and no adjournment excepting when someone adjourned under a table.

About seven o'clock in the evening when the party was getting to the merry stage, a plump, rather short man came in, surrounded by a bunch of tough-looking fellows. Pony Moore nudged me and said:

"Here comes Charlie and his sisters. I wish he had stayed away. Bet-ter if he had stayed away. His crowd are apt to start trouble."

Mitchell, it appeared, was bitter toward American boxers, and had taken his gang, or "sizers up," to vent his spleen.

When I was called upon to speak at the dinner I thanked Mr. and Mrs. Moore and the others for their kindness and hospitality and Mitchell jumped up and challenged me, saying he hoped I would give him a fight before leaving England. He finished with everyone embarrassed and uneasy, and Pony got up and said:

"I hope it never comes off, because I don't want to see my daughter a widow."

Homer Davenport, the famous American cartoonist, arose and made a speech, scoring Mitchell, saying it was an order of order to hurl challenges at a guest.

Things were coming so fast that one I came near taking a cigar, and after dinner I strolled over to a quiet part of the lawn and lay down to rest. Pony Moore was anxious. He took Nat Goodwin aside and said:

"Don't let Jim go to sleep. Charlie and his sizers are liable to do something to him."

"It's all right, Pony," said the famous American actor, "Mitchell and his gang can pummel him until he wakes up, and then he'll probably yawn and knock the heads off all of them."

Cooler heads were at work, and although Mitchell's mob was ugly and threatening, nothing happened to mar one of the most elaborate parties ever given in my honor and for the benefit of the champagne makers.

GOES TO PARIS
We crossed to Paris and I boxed every night, meeting the French champions and allowing them to fight any way they pleased. There was one big fellow who claimed to be champion heavyweight of France. When he came into the ring he vaulted over the ropes and the crowd was wild with cheering. I fainted at him twice, saw that he knew nothing about boxing, so I jabbed him a couple of times lightly on the nose and then rapped him on the body. He came to a clinch and yelled: "I kick—I kick."

"All right, Kick all you please," I said, and jabbed my left into his stomach and then hit him on the chin lightly, but hard enough so that he was groggy and wobbling around with a funny look on his face, so I taught

Australians Behind Twenty Runs At End Of First Innings

English Batsmen Hang Up Total of 417 Runs In First Innings of Third Test Match With "Aussies"; Hammond Sets New World's Record by Scoring His Second Double Century; Australia Score 118 Runs For Loss of Two Wickets In Second Innings

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 2.—England completed their first innings in the third cricket test match with Australia for 417. Australia, behind twenty runs on the first innings, soon wiped off the deficit on their second venture to the wicket, and at the close of play to-day had lost two wickets for 118 runs.

SETS WORLD'S RECORD

Walter Hammond, great Gloucestershire batsman, completed a score of 200 runs before being dismissed. As he scored 251 runs at Sydney, he thus created a world's record in international cricket by making two successive totals of 200 runs each in test matches.

ASKS PUBLIC ACCESS TO ALL OFFICIAL ACTS

Pattullo to Demand That All Citizens Be Allowed to See Council Orders

Public Should Not Be Dependent on Opposition Leader, He Declares

The right of all British Columbia citizens to view orders-in-council passed by the Provincial Government will be made an issue by T. D. Pattullo, former Minister of Lands in the Liberal Government, and official representative of the Liberal Party in viewing these documents.

In a statement issued to-day, Mr. Pattullo announced that he would press to a conclusion his demand for full publicity for the official acts of the Government. He objected emphatically to the Tolmie Government's arrangement under which only Dr. J. D. MacLean, former premier, now out of provincial politics, or his representative is allowed to see any order-in-council. Mr. Pattullo was designated by Dr. MacLean as his nominee to view these documents, but this is not satisfactory, Mr. Pattullo says. All citizens of British Columbia, he declares, have a right to examine the Government's acts and he will "stay with the argument until I am not dependent upon the humor of the administration or Dr. MacLean, or anyone else, but may as a matter of course scrutinize these orders simply by making application to the Provincial Secretary's office, where these documents are on file."

HOUSE RECORDS CITED

Mr. Pattullo's statement follows: "With regard to access to orders-in-council Hon. Dr. Tolmie is reported in the press as stating that his administration is following the same procedure as was followed by the preceding administration. The records of the House are against this contention, but in any event it is no answer to my protest. 'I applied to see the orders-in-council, and I was told that only Dr. MacLean, or someone nominated by him, could see them. My reply is that orders-in-council are public documents of a non-confidential character, and should be open to be seen by any one at all reasonable hours.'

LABOR MEMBER'S POSITION

"To illustrate the position taken by the Tolmie administration, suppose the member for Fernie, who is a Labor member, desired to see the orders-in-council, what then? Under the Tolmie procedure he can only obtain such information as the administration sees fit to impart, or he must apply to Dr. MacLean, who is a public document, and may be seen by any one at all reasonable hours. It may be that the member for Fernie has not complete confidence in either the administration or Dr. MacLean, but whether he has or whether he has not, for what reason should he be denied the right to scrutinize orders-in-council?"

"Again, there may be many private citizens who from time to time desire to satisfy themselves as to what is happening in the conduct of the business of the Province. Why should they be dependent upon the humor of either the members of the administration or the Leader of the Opposition, whoever he may be?"

NOTHING TO HIDE

"The proper place for anyone to apply to see orders-in-council is the Provincial Secretary's office, where these orders are on file. There should be nothing to hide, and there is no more trouble in showing orders-in-council than in the thousand and one other documents that are daily shown to the public."

"The Provincial Secretary has written to me stating that as it has the approval of Dr. MacLean, the 'privilege' is now extended to me to examine the orders-in-council. While I propose to examine these orders, I also propose to stay with the argument until I am not dependent upon the humor of the administration or Dr. MacLean, or anyone else, but may as a matter of course scrutinize these orders simply by making application to the Provincial Secretary's office where these documents are on file."

"My advice to Dr. Tolmie is to back up."

BOY PARLIAMENT SESSION CLOSES

Bright Debates Feature Sittings at Parliament Buildings

Closing a successful session during which many important subjects were efficiently handled and cleverly debated the British Columbia Older Boys' Parliament ended Monday.

The motion protesting the military features of cadet training was carried. The physical training features and the observance of prompt obedience to property constituted authority met with approval. The transfer of control of cadet training from the Department of Education to the Department of National Defence was also favored.

The suggestion for a Father and Son Week met with approval. The proposal for a Brother and Sister Week was defeated.

At the evening session, Hon. E. F. Tolmie, acting as Lieutenant-Governor, expressed his appreciation of the earnest consideration given by the boys to the many important subjects which had been submitted to them.

"The success which has marked this assembly has proved that each member has fulfilled the trust placed in him by the constituency which he represents," said the Premier.

"I thank you for the provision you have made for the maintenance of the work, carried out under the auspices of the boys' work board of the Religious Education Council of British Columbia and for the spirit of co-operation shown with the other departments of work."

"Now that your labors are over for this session, I trust that, as you return to your constituencies, you will display the same enthusiasm and courage you have manifested here, and that your work may contribute to the development of Christian character in the boys of British Columbia."

MODERNS OF CHINA WANT APARTMENTS

Chang Kian Chien is one of the moderns of China. "General manager, Eastern Asia Architects and Engineering Corporation Limited, President of the Great Southern Trading Company Limited, president of China Sunlight Advertising Corporation, 27 Klango Road, Shanghai."

He reads the plethora of cards carried by Chang Kian Chien, a keen and alert young business man who crossed the Pacific by the liner President Cleveland.

He is chiefly interested in building and contracting in the Orient and says that his company handles only "large contracts."

Three years ago Mr. Chien was studying civil engineering in Troy, N.Y. To-day he is the guiding light of three business corporations and is visiting the United States to confer with construction experts and engage architects and engineers to assist in competing his company's projects.

Owing to the spongy soil the construction of high buildings in Shanghai is impracticable, according to Mr. Chien, who has just completed a group of three-story apartment buildings there. The tallest building in the Chinese city, he says, is the Sassoon Building on the Bund, which is thirteen stories.

He claims that one of the signs of a rising civilization in China, is more particularly in Shanghai, is the popular demand for modern apartment houses with Murphy beds.

The Sunday school pupils of the South Saanich United Church were entertained to an afternoon party and Christmas tree on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Lillian and Gertrude Deering. Games were the favorite pastime of the afternoon, when dainty refreshments were served to the children by their teachers, Miss Deering and Miss A. Hoyer. Miss Lillian, pastor of the church, presented each child with a present from a gaily decorated Christmas tree. In the evening the Misses Deering, Gertrude and games were enjoyed by everyone, and refreshments were served by the hostesses. Those present were Misses Alma and Ida Hoyer, Margaret Mitchell, Blanch Sherring, Jessie Rhode, Violet McNally, Sadie Patterson, Mrs. Howe, Lillian and Gertrude Deering and Messrs. Nat. Gray, Rev. Lees, Albert Hafer, Harold Hamlet and Ray Hoyer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson and Miss Florence Anderson of Keating Cross Road, are spending the Christmas holidays visiting relatives in Port Angeles.

S. Caldwell of Vancouver and formerly of Keating, was a guest at the home of his son, Eric Caldwell, during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hafer and son of Port Angeles spent Christmas with their parents, Mrs. Hafer and Mrs. Gale.

Miss Hilda Sytan, who has been teaching school at Prince George for the last term, returned home on Christmas Day.

There was a large crowd present at the annual Saanich pioneers' dance, held in the Agricultural Hall on Friday evening. Many were present from Victoria as well as the surrounding districts. Heaton's four-piece orchestra supplied excellent music for both old-time and new dances. Supper was in charge of Mrs. Tyler, and was served shortly after midnight.

The Saanich Athletic Association will hold a dance on the Agricultural Hall on Friday, January 18. Pitts' four-piece orchestra will be in attendance.

Major Bert Wemp and Albert Hacker retained their place on the board.

THE S-4—DOWN AND UP IN 49 HOURS!

This striking night photo taken under the glare of searchlight from a nearby ship, shows the prow of the submarine S-4 coming to the surface off Block Island, R.I., soon after it had been sunk deliberately for a rescue test. Forty-nine hours after submerging, both ends of the craft were raised. When it was brought to the surface last March, with the bodies of forty members of its crew, the S-4 had resisted salvage efforts for three months. Commander Palmer Dunbar, inset, was in charge of the test rescue. Below is the submersible, secured by pontoons, alongside the tender Falcon.

FROM POVERTY, SHE WON HIGH PLACE IN ART

Here's "Success Story" of Minnesota Orphan Girl Who Managed Family of Seven no one the courtesy of listening to bad advice.

"Through these years of scrimping, Wanda hadn't been able to keep from drawing. Settled in a new place, she got out the old scholarship and dusted it up, found it could be renewed and rode a chair car to a hall-bedroom in New York. She told me once:

"Perhaps the most disillusioning thing in life will prove to be my discovery when I got to New York that what you wanted to do didn't necessarily pay, but that designing slenderizing clothes for stylish, snooty, sketching, fine frocks, for the frivolous and sniping masses for magazines did."

"Ever practical and now gloated by the savage desire to be utterly free economically, Wanda did commercial art for two more years, sending money home to the little Gags who fortunately were less little each day. Finally Wanda brought the whole family, one by one, to a New York tenement on the East side. They were all now contributing. Wanda was free!

NEW ERA SCHOOL

In Business Here Since 1925—Five Rooms Needed to Accommodate Many Pupils

The New Era Business School opened with one classroom and only five afternoon pupils in January, 1925. During 1928 seventy-seven day and night students enrolled for varying periods, some to take positions after only four months' training, very few found it necessary to stay longer than six. Classes are held every week day and evening except Saturday at 208-12 Ribbons Building. The fee is an inclusive one, pupils having free use of all necessary textbooks.

The Principal, an ex-civil servant, has had practical experience extending over twenty years as a confidential stenographer, bookkeeper, correspondence and record clerk in turn on three continents in British territory, and has held secretarial positions in various institutions to private individuals, in addition to being a teacher of all subjects included in the training of stenographers and secretaries. She has been particularly successful with candidates for the B.C. and Dominion civil services, her pupils readily finding positions when qualified.

A few successes obtained by the New Era School are:

1925—Fellowship "International School of Secretaries" of Great Britain, pupil gains highest marks for many years, 98 per cent. Pass Dominion Civil Service with 93 per cent marks for shorthand.

1928—Dominion Civil Service, General Knowledge Examination, Grade 1, Victoria Centre, April 17. Only three pupils were sent up from New Era Business School for examination. All passed, as gazetted amongst the ten successful students from various sources.

EXPAND TOURIST INDUSTRY, IDEA OF NEW MAYOR

Residential Advantages of City Should Be Stressed, Ansoncumb Says

Kiwianians Told Industrial Opportunities Here Are Limited

Mayor Herbert Ansoncumb and members of the council were the luncheon guests of the Kiwanis Club this afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

Mayor Ansoncumb, in a brief talk pointed out that while Victoria offers opportunities for certain types of industries, the city had not the economic possibilities of many other coast communities, chiefly because of the lack of home markets.

"I am not going to assist, and will not help in any way, any industry which has not a sound economic basis," he asserted.

FEATURE TOURISTS

The mayor believed that Victoria could greatly expand the value of the tourist industry, declaring "the possibilities of the tourist business have not yet been scratched." He considered that Victoria should direct attention towards attracting, as residents, people of the prairie provinces who, having acquired a competence, were seeking more pleasant surroundings in which to bring up their families.

In closing Mayor Ansoncumb pointed out that the city and Province were bound to use every effort to foster industries which would take care of the families of semi-retired citizens.

Alderman W. T. Straith believed that Victoria would progress greatly in the next few years. He pointed out that the zoning regulations now in effect protected residential areas from damage by industrial plants, and remarked that a great deal of capital had been synchronized with arrival of many new residents from the prairies and the United States.

ISLAND TRADE

Alderman Straith believed that special efforts should be directed towards development of "Up-Island" trade and considered that great expansion of the tourist trade was possible, in view of the unique natural advantages of the city, which was becoming known as "the hub of the Evergreen Playground." In closing, the alderman urged protection of the virgin scenic forests adjacent to the highways of Vancouver Island.

SKILLED ARTISTS

A remarkable entertainment by the Elizabethan Quartette featured the luncheon, the artists being warmly applauded when they retired, singing at the close of their programme.

Mrs. McAllister Dies in Vancouver; Well Known Here

Many Victoria friends will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Emily McAllister, wife of A. McAllister of Vancouver, who passed away at her home in the Mainland city on New Year's Eve at 11:20 o'clock. Both Mr. and Mrs. McAllister have been frequent visitors with their sons in this city.

Mrs. McAllister was a native of Whitby, Ont., and before coming to Vancouver to reside thirty years ago, lived in Barrie, Ont., where Mr. McAllister owned the largest hardware business and was a member of the Town Council for several years between 1880 and 1890, and where they were both prominent in Methodist Church life. Two years ago they celebrated their golden wedding.

Mrs. McAllister is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Perry, who has lived with her in the "Prize" Bixby in 1905, and four sons, J. A. McAllister, proprietor of a grocery store at Esquimalt; C. W. McAllister, and A. McAllister, proprietor of the Royal Dairy, Victoria, and R. D. McAllister, Vancouver.

Mr. Brown said: "There are many years' experience in connection with food storage work, will be brought to Victoria to address Island berry growers on grading and marketing, he stated.

"Home Is Best" Escaped Silver Fox Soon Finds

Silver foxes, those valuable little animals which are the pride of a larger part in the farm life of Vancouver Island, evidently believe in the adage "there's no place like home." According to N. A. Moore, of the Gilt Edge Silver-Fox Company.

One of the farm's prize winners got out of its pen Monday night and escaped. As the farm is in a timbered area, the proprietors were rather uneasy about the valuable animal but decided to give the fox a chance to get back by himself before instituting a search.

Yesterday afternoon, the animal came out of the bush near a neighboring farm and sought refuge in a wooden box when frightened by the farm dog. The fox owner was notified and the fox was brought back to its pen.

There is something singular about the way in which these escaped foxes return to the domesticated world, said Mr. Moore. During the last two months six foxes have left their homes and in each case they were back in their pens twenty-four hours later.

PRAIRIES SHOW HEALTHY GROWTH

Mr. Justice Bigelow of Regina Says Saskatchewan Is Flourishing

"Regina is flourishing and there is a healthy growth generally throughout Saskatchewan," said Mr. Justice Bigelow, of Regina, who reached Victoria yesterday from the prairie city.

"Industries subsidiary to large corporations are being established in Regina and we are expanding rapidly," he added, stating that considerable interest had been evinced throughout the West in the recent opening of a branch factory at the Saskatchewan capital by General Motors, employing 900 men.

"I came to Victoria to spend a holiday and play golf, but if my patience is tried by the weather, I may go on to California," commented Mr. Justice Bigelow in surveying the rainfall from his apartments at the Empress Hotel to-day.

"I am glad for several days here, anyhow," he said.

Mr. Justice Henry V. Bigelow, who is a native of Lynn, Mass., was appointed a justice of the court of King's Bench for Saskatchewan in 1918 and has had extensive judicial experience in Canada. He was educated at Dalhousie University and practiced law in Truro, N.S., in 1896, going to Regina in 1900.

Keenly interested in sports, Mr. Justice Bigelow is a former president of the Regina Curling Club and was first president of the Saskatchewan Tennis Association. He is also Past Provincial Grand Prior of the Knights Templar for Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

AUTO CRASH DEATH FOUND ACCIDENTAL

Four Witnesses Heard at Inquest Into Death of J. H. Burnett

Street Light at Corner Confusing One Witness Says; Speed of Car Not Fast

Accidental death was the finding of a coroner's jury, inquiring this morning into the passing of John H. Burnett, who died following the crashing of his automobile into a pole on Hereward Road, Victoria, West, Sunday night.

Four witnesses were questioned by Coroner E. C. Hart, following which the jury brought in its verdict after only a few minutes' deliberation. The inquest was held at Sands Funeral Parlors.

Evidence regarding the position of the telephone poles on Hereward Road and the position of the nearest street light were the features of the testimony. One witness stated that the light at the corner of Dominion Road and Pine Street had a confusing effect upon a person driving along Hereward Road.

LARGE SCALP WOUND

Dr. Frederick Kinard, who was on duty as house surgeon at the Jubilee Hospital when the body of Mr. Burnett was brought in about 7:35 p.m., was the first witness. He testified that life was extinct when the body arrived at the hospital. Death was due, he said, to a large scalp wound, extending from front to back. There was also a dislocation of the left shoulder.

Basil H. Woolston, 725 Belton Avenue, who was on Pine Street, about seventy-five yards from the scene of the crash at the time, told of seeing the headlights approaching. He heard the noise of the impact and then the roaring of the engine, the gears having apparently been pushed into neutral by the impact. He rushed up to the car and turned the engine off.

HEAD ON CRASH

The car was head-on to the telephone pole, he said, and Mr. Burnett was lying with his chest against the broken steering wheel. With the aid of other people who arrived upon the scene, he extricated Mr. Burnett from the car and the police were called. He had not noticed anything unusual about the speed of the car prior to the crash.

Mr. Woolston stated there was a light mist in the vicinity at the time. He also said that the street light at the corner of Dominion Road and Pine Street was very confusing to a driver coming up to the corner on Hereward Road. He thought there had been a light at the corner of Hereward Road and Pine Street.

GOOD ROAD SURE

Edward Johnson, 938 Hereward Road, told of hearing what he thought was an explosion about 7:30 p.m. Upon looking out of his house he saw a car, about fifty yards away, and with others, took Mr. Burnett from the car.

Questioned with regard to the state of the road, he said there was a good driving surface, which sloped down into ditches at both sides. The telephone poles were between the ditches and the road surface.

POOR VISIBILITY

Constable Duncan McPherson explained that the car was resting against the pole about forty-three feet six inches from the intersection of Hereward Road and Pine Street. The road had about fourteen feet of driving surface, which was of good quality. The visibility was poor on the night in question, but the arc light at the corner of Dominion Road and Pine Street gave a fair amount of light to the immediate vicinity, he said.

STOCK MARKET — FINANCIAL NEWS — GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
Winnipeg, Jan. 2.—Wheat market was dull and listless to-day, just as a quiet holiday affair, but was decidedly quiet after the opening which was a lower due to the unresponsive cables. Mills took a little wheat out of the pit, but otherwise the buying was mostly of commission house variety. Offerings were extremely small, and sentiment appeared to be just as bullish to-day as it has been for the past two or three days probably due to the lower temperatures over the winter wheat territory.

Export business late Monday was reported as good, the United States and the Canadian accepting practically all offers with sales aggregating close to 1,000,000 bushels. However, there was no further news over the holiday and nothing doing this morning. The strength in the new crop future indicates nervousness in regard to new crops and that any bullish demand must come from this source. The local cash market was even more dull than the futures, and was confined to an odd farmer's crop which terminal interests were taking at unchanged. Export interests were doing nothing. Coarse grains were doing nothing. Flax. Dull, steady market, demand poor and offerings very light. No feature.

VANCOUVER MINING MARKET

(By Hugh Allan Limited)

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—With a powerful advance in some issues and brisk trading all along the big board, the Vancouver stock exchange transactions for 1929 opened this morning.

George Copper was held at 8.00, at which figure several hundred shares changed hands, and the copper leader is evidently firmly entrenched with higher prices looming.

Sunshine was strong at 3.50, being very closely held in the market.

The trader of the day was Noble Five, which opened at 57, a jump of six points and sold up to 60. The turnover was particularly heavy in this stock.

Silverado, selling from 96 to 98, showed a gain of 14 points over the week-end, and Porter Idaho was up several points at 78 to 79.

Hope sold steadily between 58 and 59, a substantial increase.

National Silver, Silver Crest, Mohawk and Grandview all advanced, and especially Grandview, sold strongly. Grandview was in demand up to 57. Gold was firm at 80 and 81.

Big Missouri, a sensation in Toronto, with a 15-point jump over the holiday, was a fairly heavy trader here between 80 and 84, and Rufus-Argenta sprang up to 29, with Whitewater broke at 125. Kootenay Florence brought 20 and 20 1/2.

Pend Oreille came into the selling columns with a fast start from the opening. The stock sold up to 10.85, while Reeves-McDonald jumped from the pre-holiday price of 125 to sales at 145.

The oils were firm and fairly well traded. Fabyan was lively between 5 and 6, Home Oil at 325. A.P. Con was at 60, and Mayland at 240.

Jap Oranges Now Off Local Market

(Over R. F. Castle Lensed Wire)

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Holloway, Mills & Co. today say: We understand that considerable new machinery has been ordered for the new nickel concentrator, which is being installed in the mill which is eight foot mills and extensive pumping machinery ordered from a Canadian company. Delivery is to be expected in June of this year.

The new No. 4 shaft at Noranda has already been sunk to a depth of 270 feet and fairly heavy pyrite mineralization is being encountered.

We understand that some slight changes have been made in the development of Amulet. The cross-cut which was being driven to the "E" or body from the southeast cross-cut, has been stopped and diamond drilling alone from the surface will be used for proving this body. A raise is now being put into the "C" or body from the southeast cross-cut.

It is understood an extensive examination of the Sterling claims in the Sudbury district, and being maintained on a conservative production basis for the time being. Increases will be made later according to the managements of the various companies.

The diamond drilling is proceeding from the 500-foot horizon and results obtained to date are most satisfactory.

We are informed that Wright Harveys struck a vein five feet wide and drifted forty feet, showing gold and tellurides on the 750-foot level.

At the close of 1928 Wright Harveys was officially reported as looking better than it has for the past couple of years. The most important factor in the present situation is the fact that the mine has been conditioned to the 2,000-foot horizon, where they are connected by crosscut. Instead of a large part of the operation being carried on sinking as was the case last year, the above factor has provided scope for extensive development during this year.

RETAIL MARKET

(Over R. F. Castle Lensed Wire)

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Holloway, Mills & Co. today say: We understand that considerable new machinery has been ordered for the new nickel concentrator, which is being installed in the mill which is eight foot mills and extensive pumping machinery ordered from a Canadian company. Delivery is to be expected in June of this year.

The new No. 4 shaft at Noranda has already been sunk to a depth of 270 feet and fairly heavy pyrite mineralization is being encountered.

We understand that some slight changes have been made in the development of Amulet. The cross-cut which was being driven to the "E" or body from the southeast cross-cut, has been stopped and diamond drilling alone from the surface will be used for proving this body. A raise is now being put into the "C" or body from the southeast cross-cut.

It is understood an extensive examination of the Sterling claims in the Sudbury district, and being maintained on a conservative production basis for the time being. Increases will be made later according to the managements of the various companies.

The diamond drilling is proceeding from the 500-foot horizon and results obtained to date are most satisfactory.

We are informed that Wright Harveys struck a vein five feet wide and drifted forty feet, showing gold and tellurides on the 750-foot level.

At the close of 1928 Wright Harveys was officially reported as looking better than it has for the past couple of years. The most important factor in the present situation is the fact that the mine has been conditioned to the 2,000-foot horizon, where they are connected by crosscut. Instead of a large part of the operation being carried on sinking as was the case last year, the above factor has provided scope for extensive development during this year.

DRIEST YEAR CLAIM

On Prairies Denied By "Eighty-niners"

Old-timers Here Tell of Condition in 1889 When Rivers Dried Up in Spring

Prairie old-timers, headed by D. R. Bremner, an early Manitoba homesteader, later a Winnipeg citizen, today took issue with weather reports coming through from the prairies to the effect that the present is the driest year in the history of the country east of the Rockies.

Some of us who were through it, well remember the Winter of forty years ago—it was the time of the total eclipse of the sun on New Year's Day, 1889, when the whole Winter season was like a semi-Indian Summer," Mr. Bremner said. "In that year, seeding was all done by March, but there was no rain. Conditions were so bad among the settlers when the Souris River in Manitoba went dry, they had to dig wells in the dry bed of the stream in an attempt to get water.

KING GAINING, SAY DOCTORS

The bulletin issued last night, timed 8:15, read:

"The King had a restful day and there is a slight improvement in his general condition. The administration of calcium, based on chemical examination of the blood, is producing beneficial results."

The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewitt, Sir Hugh Rigg, Lord Dawson and Dr. E. C. Dodds.

NEW TREATMENT

In mentioning calcium, the bulletin revealed the new line of treatment which had been previously referred to by the doctors, but kept secret so far as its nature was concerned.

The bulletin also added a new name to the already long list of physicians called into the case. The newcomer is Dr. E. C. Dodds, professor of biochemistry in the University of London. He seemingly is responsible for the carrying out of the new treatment with calcium.

In general the bulletin yesterday caused a more hopeful feeling than had prevailed for a long time. Only once before in the whole course of the King's illness had the physicians used the word "good" in a bulletin. That was on the Thursday before Christmas.

The Prince of Wales, who had attended the consultation during the day, returned to the night consultation, eager for the latest news. He left the palace,

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1929

Benefic planetary influences are strong to-day, according to astrology, which nevertheless finds in the horoscope certain sinister signs. Discontent with money matters may disturb the average mind while this rule prevails. It is not a favorable day for looking into one's bank account. For the skilled worker, satisfied to pursue routine employment, the signs are fortunate and labor should greatly benefit.

Industry is well directed, and there should be great profit for all engaged in building operations. Beauty is to make an impression on those who guide the destinies of certain American cities, it is forecast, but it will be long before advertising agencies will be removed. The demand for publicity of every sort will increase in the new year, astrologers declare that advertising is to be more closely confined to newspapers and periodicals. France, the Balkans, Poland and Germany are all believed to be subject to menacing planetary influences. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of great success in the coming year.

which will probably bring pleasant journeys as well as increase of income. It is well to guard one's wealth. Children born on this day probably will be successful in life, for they should have vision and enthusiasm. They should be taught to be wisely optimistic and not foolishly sanguine.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS RALLY

Over Eight Hundred Attend Presbyterian Service on New Year's Morning

Over 800 Sunday School pupils, representing the enrollment of seven Presbyterian Churches of the city, gathered yesterday morning in St. Andrew's Church for their annual New Year's rally.

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, in an interesting and instructive address, spoke of the New Year as a gift from God which should be used day by day in carrying out one's duty faithfully and promptly. With a number of vivid illustrations he brought his points home to his hearers.

Thomas Humphreys, elected as chairman and in opening requested the audience to sing the National Anthem in a spirit of prayer for the recovery of King George.

A fine programme was rendered by Sunday School pupils. A chorus in Chinese by pupils of the Chinese Presbyterian Sunday School being of particular interest.

St. Andrew's Sunday School was given a banner position in the church following the roll call which showed that school to have the greatest proportional representation.

Reverend T. H. Davies, P. S. Patterson and A. O. Thomson also took part in the service.

LOCAL METAL WORKS SOLD

Western Steel Products Ltd. Take Over Pacific Sheet Metal Works Here To-day

Further evidence of the development that is yearly being carried on in Western Canada and the confidence that far-sighted business firms feel in the future prospects of the West, is the announcement of purchase of the plant and business of the Pacific Sheet Metal Works, in Victoria, by the Western Steel Products Limited.

"We have had one of the best years in our history during 1928," declared P. T. Foxcroft, manager of British Columbia branches of the company, in announcing the absorption of the Victoria business by the larger concern. "and are looking forward to still better times." Business has been picking up fast in the last few years, that is why we feel confident that our investment in Western Canada has not been misplaced.

The Victoria plant just taken over was owned by S. McCure, with H. A. Dane as superintendent. Mr. Dane will continue with the Western Steel Products as manager of the Victoria branch.

TO ENLARGE PLANT

It is the intention of the Western Steel Products Limited, to enlarge the newly-acquired plant, and more men will be employed as a result. The business commenced operations under the new name to-day.

Western Steel Products Limited has an enviable reputation among Western firms, having grown from a comparatively humble start to extensive proportions.

Head offices are located in Winnipeg, with R. E. Symington as president, and A. Wachsman as general manager. In addition to sheet metal products which already hold a prominent place on the market, factories have been established at Toronto, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver, with the latest addition in Victoria.

AT THE THEATRES

AMUSING COMEDY FEATURE TO-NIGHT AT THE CAPITOL

Tom O'Brien, former American soldier and wearer of the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross, recently, at Universal City, Cal. renewed acquaintance with the daughter of a French innkeeper who had aided him in France. The daughter, Marie Du Bois, is now a motion picture player and the two met during the filming of a scene in "Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" Universal picture showing at the Capitol Theatre. Tom Moore and Bessie Love are co-starred in the production. Others in the film, which was directed by William Wyler, are Rex Price and Alfred Allen.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre for to-day are Laddie Warkis, a former Victoria pianist, Rose and Peterson, a team of clever comedians, who know how to please, and the Couche Brothers, offering a high-class novelty musical specialty, along with Jack Reed and the Capitol Stage Band, under the leadership of Al Prescott.

"SINGAPORE MUTINY" FILM ATTRACTION AT THE COLUMBIA

There are but two women characters in "The Singapore Mutiny," the gripping photoplay of a rising action aboard a tramp freighter, presented at the Columbia Theatre, and in the construction of the story the author, Norman Springer, conceived feminine types as diametrically opposed as the poles. One of the pair, Daisy Martin, portrayed by beautiful Estelle Taylor, is a dashing adventuress whose presence aboard the ship as copilot of four passengers leads to tumult, battle, rivalry and even mutiny among the officers and men. The other woman, played by Martha Mattox, is a plain, contented, fault-finding matron whose contempt for Daisy and things in general is unrestrained. Ralph Ince, who directed the picture, plays the leading role with Miss Taylor opposite and in the cast are such players as James Mason, Gardner James, Frank Newberg, Robert Gaillard and Carl Axelzelle.

JAXON PLAYERS ARE POPULAR THIS WEEK IN AMUSING COMEDY

With another of their comedy attractions, the Lee Jaxon Players are now appearing before record breaking houses at the Coliseum Theatre in a bill entitled "Alma, Where Do You Live?" This week's attraction opened as usual on Monday evening and yesterday (New Year's Day), played to three capacity and was thoroughly enjoyed the show and applauded the players to the echo. The same attraction will be stage offering for the weekend, with a matinee performance on Saturday afternoon.

"Alma, Where Do You Live?" from the pen of Lee Jaxon, popular and clever leader of the Coliseum stock company, abounds in good clean comedy, ably acted with pleasing settings. All the members of the company have splendid voices, which of course were made for them, and all give fine impersonations. Miss Dorothy Raymond, charming and versatile leading lady with the company, has a winning personality, which, coupled with her perfect voice, is heard to perfection in a tuneful selection which pleases her adherents, which as may well be expected are numerous. Miss Ada Daniels, who is one of the most popular of the Coliseum company; Howard Van Alstyne, Tracey McDermott and Forrest Taylor.

For the screen offering this week Manager Cecil M. De Mille has selected Raymond Griffith in his latest film release, a picture entitled "Time to Love." Also on the screen programme is a fight, picture in three reels, showing a "brawl" of championship fights in which world famous pugilists took part.

STORY OF PARIS ON SCREEN NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Marion Byron, who enacts the role of a comic French sublette in "Plastered in Paris," Fox films comedy production, now at the Playhouse Theatre, experienced here first homeback ride while on location when the unit made desert sequences in Utah.

The "half-pint" comedienne, like many of her screen sisters, came to the films from the speaking stage. Or, in her particular case, the singing and speaking stage, for the petite funster was a singer and dancer in outstanding musical comedies and revues during the year and a half in which she has been a performer.

These included "Tip Toes," "The Fanny Price Revue," and a speaking part in "Gracie Smithe," a "Plastered in Paris" closes to-night.

An ex-Europoan screen star, only twenty-seven years old, who has been in the United States less than a year and already has made his mark in eight motion pictures, briefly describes Nils Asther, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract player, intimate friend of Sarah Bernhardt, first civilian to be invited to Soviet Russia after the World War, and Hollywood's newest man of mystery. In several others, Asther, who has a leading role in "Our Dancing Daughters," a Cosmopolitan picture, made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is now at the Dominion Theatre, was born at Malmo, Sweden, the son of wealthy parents who destined him for the diplomatic service.

But despite threats of being disowned, Asther refused to go to school and, instead, went to a dramatic academy in Copenhagen. Graduating from there he played several roles and attracted the attention of Mauritz Stiller, the great Swedish director.

The picture was such a success that Asther appeared in several others, some of them opposite Greta Garbo. After appearing again on the stage in Ibsen's "Ghosts," Asther followed Stiller to Berlin where he was starred for two years by UFA.

who does nothing, in reality does a lot. "The Family Group" strikes a rich vein of humor. In it an exceedingly vivacious Frenchman endeavors to photograph a rustic family in town for the day. He is eventually successful, but with results not altogether satisfying.
